WIND-BLOWN TIDE LEAVES DEBRIS AMONG HOMES — This is Muir Beach, after tide whipped by gale winds receded this morning. The debris which litters the landscape was borne inland by great waves, some of it into homes along the beach. For what this scene looked like at high tide, turn to Page 4.

Gunman Escapes With $246 In Novato Market Robbery

A short, stocky gunman wearing a black pork-pie hat escaped with $246 from Rayburn's Grocery in Novato yesterday after threatening to shoot the proprietor, Andrew S. Rayburn, and his assistant, Archie Whiting.

Rayburn, 47, told Deputy Sheriff Harold Goerndt the bandit accosted him at noon in a washroom at the rear of the store at 850 Grant avenue. Rayburn said his back was turned when the man, about 30 to 35 years old, asked if he could get a check cashed.

The store owner turned and found himself looking into the barrel of a nickel-plated .32 caliber revolver.

"This is a stickup. I want all your money," the gunman snapped.

He ordered Rayburn out of the washroom and into the adjacent office. Closing the office door, the bandit made Rayburn sit in a chair facing the wall.

Whiting noticed the door closed and suspected something was amiss. He opened it and saw the robber aiming his revolver at Rayburn's back. The gunman wheeled, pointed the weapon at Whiting and ordered him into the office. He closed the door again and made Whiting kneel on the floor.

Unseen by the bandit when Whiting entered was another employee, James Walter Neal, who also spotted the revolver. Neal darted to the telephone in the meat department and called the sheriff's office. About a dozen persons—customers and employees—were in the market.

TAKES MONEY BAG

Holding Rayburn and Whiting at bay, the bandit went through the safe and removed a money bag containing $246, about $50 of it in currency, the rest in change.

He made one final search of the safe, then departed through a rear door, telling his victims they could "call the cops any time," but warning, "I'll shoot if you try to follow me."

Two or three minutes after the gunman left, California Highway Patrol officers and sheriff's deputies arrived at the market in response to Neal's call.

GONE FROM SIGHT

Deputy Goerndt and Sheriff's Inspector Guido Battaglia searched the vicinity, but the robber had vanished.

Goerndt said the bandit was described as 5 feet 8 to 10 inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds, with stocky build, light brown hair, hazel eyes and light complexion.

Besides a pork-pie hat, he was wearing a black and white checked shirt, tan or gray pants and a gray topcoat.

Lopez Appointed Tax Appraiser

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Henry P. Lopez, the only unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state-wide office last November, today landed a state job.

State Controller Alan Cranston appointed Lopez, 38, as a state inheritance tax appraiser in Los Angeles County. Lopez is a graduate of Harvard Law School.

Veteran Reporter Joins I-J Staff With Sports Column

Independent-Journal sports pages have a new personality beginning today.

He is Jack Hanley, veteran reporter, whose regular columns will feature inside coverage on the San Francisco Giants and 49ers and other major sports events in northern California.

Hanley, former Pacific Division Managing Editor of International News Service, is in Phoenix to cover the Giants' spring training. Throughout the season he will travel with the team to bring I-J readers highlights of the 1959 National League pennant race.

With Hanley joining John J. Connolly's "The Bullpen" and the services of Associated Press and United Press International, I-J readers can be assured of complete coverage of the Giants again this season.

Big 3 Propose 4-Power Meet On Germany

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States, Britain and France proposed to the Soviet Union today that a four-power foreign ministers conference on Germany be convened this spring with German advisers present.

A preference was expressed for late April or early May as the meeting time.

This is the first time the Western powers have called for inclusion within the conference room of representatives from Communist East Germany and Allied West Germany.

While they would have the role of advisers, the step could prove to be a historic move toward some compromise on the problem of reunifying Germany.

The Western proposals were set forth in similar notes delivered in Moscow today.

U.S. officials opened up the possibility of a summit conference to follow if the foreign ministers meeting succeeded in making substantial progress on German issues.

These officials said that a top-level session which would bring together President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would not be excluded.

Hub Man Treated For Malnutrition

Harley N. Dobbie, 42, who lives alone at 14 Foothill road, San Anselmo, staggered out of his small hillside home yesterday afternoon in his pajamas in search of help.

A neighbor, Francis Bosworth of 132 Humboldt avenue, heard Dobbie calling for help as he tried to climb uphill through dense underbrush. Bosworth called San Anselmo police and United Ambulance, which transported the 90-pound man to Ross General Hospital.

Dobbie was under treatment today at the hospital for malnutrition and over-exposure.

China: A Nation In Uniform

(The Communist-engineered changes in China are enormous, and so is the price paid in human terms. Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar, noted scholar and director of India's Institute for Population at Madras, recently returned from extensive travel behind the Bamboo Curtain. This is the first of five articles he has written for Associated Press.)

By Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar

I spent about six weeks in Communist China and traveled widely, visiting a dozen major cities, a few villages and four communes.

My interests covered universities, colleges and schools, hospitals and clinics, factories, agriculture, population and vital statistics, and the country's family planning program.

China occupies an area almost equal to the whole of Europe and its people number a little more than 650 million, or about a quarter of the world's population.

This huge nation has embarked upon an experiment which seeks to accomplish in one day what other nations normally take 20 years to do.

What is this communism they are after and how are they trying to achieve it?

Even the most casual traveler in Red China cannot but be struck with five aspects of the people and their economy. These are dress, the continuous din of broadcast propaganda, the country's extraordinary cleanliness, the tremendous labor effort and the new position of women.

Take dress. Everyone, men and women of all ages, is dressed in blue trousers and buttoned-up coats with collars like the uniform of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

To a newcomer, men and women look almost alike, for all the women have taken to shoulder-length bobs.

It was explained to me that

Floods, Power Failures Plague Marin In Storm

Mt. Tam Registers Winds At 100 M.P.H.

High winds and rain brought havoc to Marin County in the early morning hours today.

Power lines whipped together by strong gusts burned and broke in San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax, Nicasio, Black Point and the Pt. Reyes peninsula.

Resulting power failures meant no school today for students at San Rafael High School, Sun Valley and West End Schools in San Rafael.

Thirty-five minutes after students were dismissed at 3 a.m., power was restored.

The 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais clocked wind in gusts up to 100 miles an hour between 3 and 4 a.m.

The wind gauge of Douglas Timmer at 111 I street, San Rafael, registered gusts of 56 miles an hour at 5 a.m.

Several Muir Beach residents were forced to evacuate their homes at high tide. Some residents of Granton Park in Kentfield and of Ross homes along Sir Francis Drake boulevard quit their homes temporarily when Corte Madera Creek spilled over its banks. A clogged drainage ditch caused a flood along Lynwood drive in Novato.

In North Marin, three and one half inches of rain fell in the 24 hours up to 8 a.m.

The weather forecast was for intermittent rain through tomorrow, with another great storm lurking offshore to the north which may strike here later in the week.

Area by area, the following damage was reported:

NOVATO—Hardest hit home in the Novato area was that of

Winter's Worst Storm Blasts Across State

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—The worst storm of the winter blasted across California during the night, then became diffuse and indistinct as it moved inland.

Still lurking out at sea was a vast caldron of churning storms.

The big storm front crashed upon the coast about 5 a.m. with torrents of rain and gale winds. As the front passed the rain stopped and the air calmed.

But the storm rolled on across the state, dumping heavy rains on the interior during the morning and stirring high winds.

Heart Sunday Contributions Break Record

Marin gave a warm-hearted greeting yesterday to some 1,900 Heart Sunday volunteers and sent them back to headquarters with a record-breaking collection of contribution envelopes.

Mrs. Wayne Coen of San Rafael, chairman of the one-day door-to-door canvass in behalf of the Marin County Heart Assn., today reported collections totaling $13,200. Still to be received are partial returns from Belvedere, San Rafael, Corte Madera and parts of West Marin.

Collections totaled $3,524 more than Heart Sunday last year. Late receipts undoubtedly will swell the total above the $15,000 figure, she declared.

Mail-in contributions from those missed by the house-to-house canvassers yesterday will be credited to the town indicated by the postmark, Mrs. Coen reported.

Sacramento's public schools were closed today because of the rain and the violent wind.

Southern California, too, was hit by the tropical storm and there were torrential rains and winds in many sections of the southland. But south of Bakersfield the winds threw up a curtain of dust that blocked U. S. Highway 99 for 20 miles during the night. Television aerials fell by the score around Santa Barbara. Los Angeles expected to get about 1 1/2 inches of rain out of the storm, and 2 to 5 inches were predicted for mountains near the city.

Streams in the northern part of the state ran high but only isolated flooding was reported. The general forecast, once the violent front had passed, was for intermittent rain through tomorrow in the northern and central counties, with snow in the mountains.

But the Weather Bureau spoke of "a giant storm" that covers the ocean from the Gulf of Alaska to the subtropics of Northern Mexico, and extends from about 1,200 miles off California to Nevada and Idaho. The center of this storm system was 500 miles west of Eureka at 4 a.m. It is expected to remain in that general area for the next two days, said Forecaster W. J. Denney.

CHP Investigates Possible Suicide

The California Highway Patrol today reported that a car registered to Dawn B. Vinje of Daly City was found parked about 11:15 o'clock last night 500 feet north of mid-span on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Officers said the driver possibly was a suicide.

Tam High Tax Rate Election Set Tomorrow

Voters in the Tamalpais Union High School District will go to the polls tomorrow to decide the fate of a proposal to increase the district general fund tax rate ceiling from $1.25 to $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation for a five-year period.

All of 39 polling places except four will be open tomorrow from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Polling places at Nicasio, Stinson Beach and Lagunitas Schools will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. and at Bolinas from 2 to 8 p.m.

The county clerk's office said there are 41,325 registered voters in the district.

The voters will vote either "yes" or "no" on the measure.

Twice before, a proposal for a similar increase for a 10-year period was defeated.

Advocates of the increase cite the countywide reappraisals, inflation, district growth and increased costs as reasons for raising the tax limit.

The increased funds are proposed to be used for raising teachers' salaries, hiring more teachers, increasing funds for purchase of educational materials, reinstatement of driver training, summer school and the regular building maintenance program, and for rebuilding district reserves.

Opponents of the measure claim the cost per student in the district has increased disproportionately in the last 10 years, and contend the increase in assessed valuation is such that a higher tax rate is unnecessary. They charge the district with careless spending.

All His Clothes Slashed By Razor

John Charles Nalik told San Rafael police yesterday someone entered his apartment at 18 Latham street, slashed his entire wardrobe with a razor and stole a $40 wrist watch.

Nalik said he thought the intruder gained entry with a skeleton key. He said he was away from the apartment between 7:30 a.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. yesterday. He estimated the loss at $150, including theft of the watch.

Dulles Gets Out Of Bed

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' doctors said he got out of bed today and sat in a chair for half an hour.

A bulletin issued through the State Department said radiation therapy will begin this week in an effort to control Dulles' cancer.

A cancer specialist was called in to help with the treatment and presumably to try to determine the extent of the cancer.

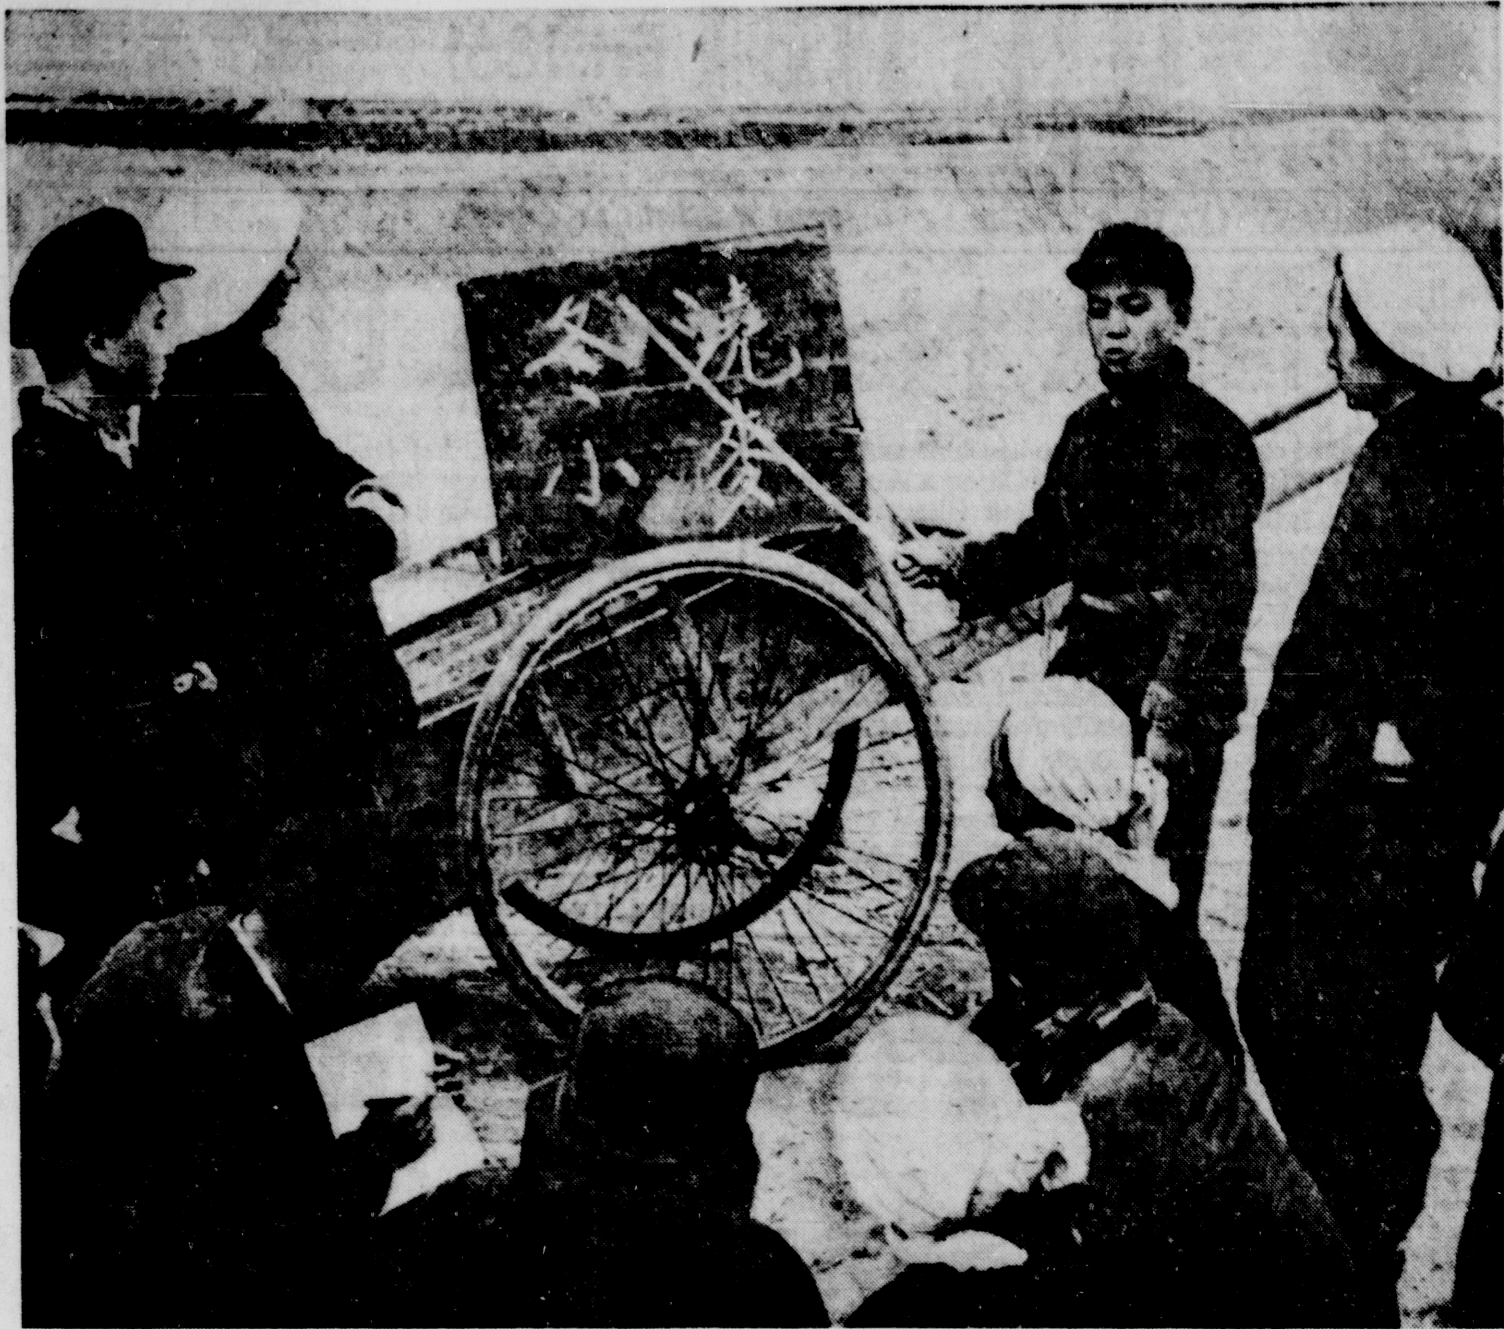

The specialist is Dr. Gordon Zubrod, clinical director of the National Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in nearby Bethesda, Md.

State Department press chief Lincoln White issued the medical bulletin after consulting by telephone with Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commandant at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Heaton operated on Dulles for hernia last Friday. The recurrence of the secretary's 1956 cancer was discovered during the operation.

"The secretary's condition continues satisfactory. He sat up this morning for about half an hour. His pulse, temperature and blood pressure are stable," White said.

Oko Waves Big Stick, Halts Brawl

Four youths were jailed Saturday night at Drake's Arms in Inverness after they allegedly dragged one employee outside and used vulgar language in the presence of women.

Capt. Adolph S. Oko, proprietor, broke up the melee by waving a billy club.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Gene Henry Schettler, 19, a milkman at Joe Mendoza Ranch, Inverness; John Oliver Goff, 21, who gave his address as 125 Willow avenue, Corte Madera; a 16-year-old from Inverness, and a 17-year-old from Olema.

Schettler, booked on charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace, was freed on $300 bail. Goff, suspected of disturbing the peace, was out on $50 bail. The other two were turned over to the probation officer.

WHAT HAPPENED

Sheriff's Deputies William S. Christensen, Kenneth Irving and Arthur Leal, who took the youths into custody, gave this account of what happened: The four walked into the bar and asked for cigarettes. Bartender Mark Derringer told them he could not serve them as three of them were under age and were not allowed in the bar.

The youths then grabbed Derringer and started to drag him outside.

Mrs. Oko said she tried to save Derringer from a mauling and threw her arm between Derringer and Schettler. Mrs. Oko said she is not sure whether Schettler shoved her. At any rate, she lost her balance and fell to the sidewalk.

GRABS STICK

Captain Oko, emerging from tavern at that moment, assumed that his wife had been knocked down. He grabbed an extra long military police type night stick and threatened to use it against the youths. The four left in Schettler's car just as Deputy Christensen drove up.

Christensen later caught the youths about three miles away and returned them to Drake's Arms, where Captain Oko swore out a complaint against them.

Mrs. Oko and Thelma Blunt, a waitress, said they saw Schettler hit Derringer in the stomach during the incident.

You're Lucky—If Your Name Begins With L

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's an odd sequence in the names of New York's most recent Republican senators: retired Irving Ives and incumbents Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating. A double-I, a double-J, a double-K.

Keating suggests the next Republican senator could be a double-L. Atty. Gen. Louis Lef-bowitz of New York.

BIG MARIN 'GAMBLING RAID'; STAKES? SLUGS, BOTTLE CAPS

Marin sheriff's deputies were summoned to a Marin City apartment Friday night to investigate a report of gambling.

Peering through a window, they saw a large group of women playing bingo. They knocked on the door and were invited to enter.

The women, seated around makeshift tables, were playing the game with bottle caps and metal slugs. No money was in sight. One player said the women were members of a club.

There was a chorus of "noes" when the officers asked if they were playing for money, but one woman said, "I wish I was."

The "raid" was made by Inspectors Carl Sears and William Bradley and Deputy Ed Klementovich. There were no arrests.

2 Youths Arrested After Neighbors Complain Of Party

Two youths, one recently married, were arrested last night for creating a disturbance at Bel Aire, along Blackfield drive on the Tiburon peninsula.

Ernest John Gates, 22, of 155 Blackfield drive, was booked for disturbing the peace and freed on $50 bail. Sheriff's deputies said Gates was apparently having a party at his home for friends.

One of the guests at the party, James C. Toso, 20, of 900 Meadowsweet drive, Corte Madera, a lithograph worker, was caught on suspicion of drunken driving and disturbing the peace. He was in jail this morning in lieu of $312 bail.

Arques Faces Court Action For Using Arks

Donlon J. Arques, target of many legal actions by the City of Sausalito, was scheduled to have more of the same heaped on him today as Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen moved in a new direction against the waterfront property owner.

Ehlen announced he would file an action in Marin Superior Court seeking to restrain Arques from "using or permitting to be used" various "boats, arks, barges and miscellaneous structures" on "Marinship Ways No. 1, 2 and 3."

NO SEWERS

Ehlen claims the assorted crafts are being used as living quarters without sewer facilities.

"The extent of pollution of Sausalito waterfront waters as a result of illegal human habitations not connected to sewers has reached a dangerous point," Ehlen declared. "I have a report from county health officer Dr. Carolyn Albrecht supplying bacteria counts that disclose the dangerous condition."

SWIMMING IMPOSSIBLE

Ehlen said the report "definitely rules out the Sausalito waterfront as a place for swimming or other water sports."

He said he has tried, without success, to have the state Department of Fish and Game take action because of the water pollution.

Ehlen said he would also file an amended complaint against Arques in connection with the dilapidated schooner Lassen. "An inspection which I made Saturday in company with City Building Inspector William Hynes discloses that some 12 persons are living aboard the hulk," he declared.

2 Hurt In 2-Car San Rafael Crash

Two persons were hurt shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday in a two-car collision at Lincoln avenue and Francisco boulevard, San Rafael.

Injured were Rinaldo Manuel Jacques, 24, of 69 Red Hill avenue, San Anselmo, one of the drivers, and Mrs. Beth Beckius of 1210 Second street, San Rafael, passenger in a car driven by her husband Elmer, 52-year-old carpenter.

Jacques suffered a cut on the chin and a possible head injury. He was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital for observation. Mrs. Beckius was examined and found to have multiple bruises and a chipped sternum. At home today, she said she "hurt all over."

Police said Jacques was west-bound on Francisco and Beckius southbound on Lincoln when their cars met in the intersection. Jacques was cited for running a stop sign.

Vote Registration Deadline Looms

Those who want to vote in the San Rafael municipal election of April 13 must be registered by Wednesday evening.

Voters will elect a mayor, two city councilmen, city clerk, tax collector-treasurer, police chief, city attorney, and three members of the board of education.

Woman Hurt In Fall

Mrs. Agnes Schwartz, 42, of 304 First street, San Rafael, suffered injuries of the back, neck and right cheekbone shortly before 7 o'clock last night when she fell into the bathtub in her home, police reported. She was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital for observation after an apparent fainting spell, a hospital aide reported today.

CHINA

this new haircut, replacing the twin pigtail, saves time in washing and combing.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women in blue padded trousers and coats with soiled shoes (it is bourgeois to shine one's shoes, I was told) look like an endless army of blue ants scurrying to their appointed tasks.

This blue uniform is only an external symbol or manifestation of the regimentation of the people's inner life and thought.

The second thing that no one can escape is the ubiquitous radio and the loudspeaker. Its voice blares away at you in the bus, in the train, in the trolley, in sleepers and dining cars, on street corners, in villages, towns and cities—everywhere.

Even in a most backward and traditional village I saw a loudspeaker hidden in a treetop. And what does this radio pour out day and night? Everything that the government approves.

This is the most important medium for approved news—news of the nation's progress, industrial output, how to make a smelter, how to defeat the American "Imperialists," how to be a good Communist, how to be neat, how to denounce the rightists, how to behave in a train, how to kill a rat or a sparrow, how to cook a sweet potato—and a thousand other things, interspersed with traditional Chinese opera with its deafening gongs and cymbals and martial and marching songs.

A few times in trains I had to feign illness so I could pull out the plug under the loudspeaker to enjoy a few hours of quiet. The citizen does not have a minute of silence in which to rest his mind or reflect on his new life.

The reason behind the loudspeaker is really a simple one. In a far-flung nation of 650 million, where literacy is not widespread and where, consequently, the printed word is relatively ineffective, the only way to reach the citizen is via the radio in the relaying loudspeaker which cannot be controlled and cannot even be turned off.

LOAD OF CLAY COLLAPSES ATOP AUTO

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Hersoz Jr. and their teen-age son, Kramar, were en route home to 1440 Grand avenue, San Rafael, from a ski meet near Lake Tahoe when they met a truck loaded with sacks of powdered red clay on snow-slick Highway 40 near Baxter's. What happened is shown above. As the Herzog car turned out to allow the truck to pass, the truck's load shifted and bags of clay tumbled on the car, several of them smashing their way inside. The Herzogs were trapped until truck driver Murrel Morford of Sparks, Nev., opened a car window to help them out. Mr. and Mrs. Herzog both suffered shock and bruises. Young Kramar took this picture after emerging from the wreck. The accident was similar to that in which a load of hay tumbled on a car near Nicasio Jan. 26, critically injuring Mrs. Heloise Marie Tomasini and 5-year-old Maria Elena Gonzales.

Salary Changes Eyed For San Rafael Officials

Salaries of four elective officials in San Rafael were being discussed this afternoon at a luncheon meeting of the city councilmen at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Mayor John F. McInnis said he and the other city fathers would take formal action on the salaries of the elective officials at tonight's council meeting, set for 8 o'clock in the city hall.

At today's luncheon, the councilmen were to discuss the salaries of City Clerk W. L. Morgan, Tax Collector-Treasurer Angie Soldavini, Police Chief Frank Kelly and City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw.

The city clerk now gets $7,500 per year plus an additional $1,200 as finance officer. The tax collector-treasurer draws $6,300 per year. The police chief gets $6,300 plus an additional $1,800 as "parking meter supervisor." The city attorney draws $6,600.

Every four years before election, the council must consider the salaries of the elective posts to determine whether they should be raised, lowered, or left as is.

Other items on tonight's council agenda include: Abatement of a nuisance at Joe's Restaurant, 915 Fourth street.

Awarding of contracts for Francisco boulevard storm water pumping plant, and for a street sweeper.

Discussion of proposed Lincoln avenue extension.

Calling of bids for a $2,500 dump truck chassis and cab, and for a $3,000 one-ton pickup chassis and cab. These are to be used in the public works department.

Jet Airliner Fares Overseas Studied

PARIS (UPI) — The world's airlines met today for what could be a vital session on the question of transatlantic jet airliner fares.

The majority of the world's 87 major airlines were represented at the opening session.

Informed sources said the airways faced a price-cutting war which could put half of them out of business unless they can agree on jet fares across the Atlantic.

2 San Jose Newspapers Unions Strike

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Typographical workers said today that they have been locked out of the San Jose Mercury and News as a result of a strike by two other unions.

The strike, first in 108 years for the two newspapers, was called Saturday in a wage dispute by Local 120, Stereotypers and Electrotypes Union, and Local 146, Printing Press and Assistants Union.

On official of the International Typographical Union, which also is involved in the wage dispute, said its members reported for work today, but were "locked out."

The Central Labor Council of Santa Clara County sanctioned a strike Feb. 6, subject to a meeting of the unions and management.

The meeting was held Friday. The union took a strike vote a short time later and closed the paper by walking off the job at 8 p.m. Saturday night.

Publisher Joseph B. Ridder said mailers failed to show up at 9 p.m. making it impossible to publish. Pickets were posted around the building.

Ridder said in an editorial Saturday that management offered to place the dispute with the stereotypers before an impartial arbiter, but the union refused.

The two unions, along with the International Typographical Union, have been working without a contract since February, 1958. Principal points of dispute have been wages and hours.

Stereotypers and pressmen now receive $113.05 for a 35-hour week. The ITU printers get $117 for a 36½ hour week.

Nixon Meets Knowland In GOP Building Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who says two things helped defeat the Republican Party in California last year, conferred today with former Sen. William F. Knowland—the man who figured in both.

Nixon's breakfast meeting at the St. Francis Hotel with Knowland followed a news conference yesterday in which he said the party's 1958 setback in the state could be blamed largely on division among top leaders and "the error of having the right to work issue (closed shop ban) on the ballot."

Knowland pushed the right to work issue, an action which brought him into sharp disagreement with Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Knowland and Knight both lost in bids for each other's job.

Nixon will follow up this morning's breakfast session with Knowland with talks in Los Angeles with Knight.

The vice president is on a tour to revitalize the California Republican party organization, buffeted by the Democratic election victory last fall.

The California GOP needs building from the ground up, Nixon said yesterday on his arrival from Oregon centennial celebrations in Portland.

The right-to-work measure, pushed by Knowland and opposed by Knight, brought out a big Democratic registration and created an "emotional issue," Nixon said, which gave some Republican candidates an "undeserved" anti-labor label.

Both Knowland and Knight, said Nixon, have big personal followings and "can have a good effect in rebuilding the party and developing a unified party" in the state.

Half a dozen Marinites participated in the weekend conferences with the vice president.

Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael had several conversations with Nixon. McCarthy is the leader of the Republicans in the state Senate.

Elmer Worlund of San Anselmo attended the special meeting Nixon held for county central committee chairmen. Worlund heads the Marin unit.

Four localities attended a special meeting for volunteer leaders. They include Jeanne Dausse, regional vice president of the California Young Republicans, and Wilda Jane Derryberry, secretary of the state YRs; George Maisac, vice president of the California Republican Assembly and president of the Marin unit, and William Bagley, a director of the 1st Regional Republican Assembly.

Their parents are divorced. Detective Sgt. John Renke said the youngsters apparently were depressed over their broken home.

Boy's Birthday Treat Lands Him In Hospital

Saturday was James William Kennedy's eighth birthday, but it seemed for awhile more like Friday the 13th.

His father, William, had promised him a birthday trip to the Sierra snow country, and his 5-year-old sister, Colleen, was to be included in the fun.

Before daybreak, the Marin City family group was rolling along Highway 40 near Auburn when a deer ran onto the road ahead of them. Kennedy lost control in swerving to avoid the animal, the car slammed into a bridge abutment.

Jimmy suffered fractures of the right leg and left arm, a cut on the upper lip and two black eyes. His father and sister escaped unhurt.

The boy was examined at an Auburn hospital, then transferred by ambulance to Marin General Hospital, where the broken limbs were placed in casts. He spent the rest of his birthday lying in traction in a hospital bed.

When Karl Barron, KTIM

news announcer, heard about Jimmy's plight, things got more like an eighth birthday should be—despite the hospital setting.

Barron passed the word, and presently arrived at the hospital with birthday presents for Jimmy. Charles Zapelli, co-owner of Charlie's Market, contributed a soldier kit; Mike Pryor of Mike's News Center in San Rafael, provided a stack of space and rocket comic books—Jimmy's favorites; Barron chipped in some candy. And Ollie Freeman, KTIM disc jockey from Richmond, ordered the lad a cowboy outfit, complete with pearl-handled six-shooters.

Kennedy, employed in San Francisco as an auto mechanic, lives with his wife and children at House 442, Marin City.

Mrs. Duncan Goes On Trial For Murder

VENTURA (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, accused of plotting the death of her daughter-in-law to keep her son for herself, went on trial today on charge of first degree murder.

The prosecution is expected to ask the death penalty for the 54-year-old woman, claiming that she was so jealous of her son, Frank, that she shop-ped for months trying to hire a killer.

Mrs. Duncan's chief accusers are two Santa Barbara laborers. They say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000 to kill her son's pregnant bride, Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, a nurse.

Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, have admitted luring the nurse from her apartment late one November night, choking and beating her during a 20-mile auto trip, and burying her alongside a mountain road.

Her body was discovered last Dec. 21 and an autopsy surgeon said it was possible she was buried alive.

Mrs. Duncan has denied any connection with her daughter-in-law's death.

Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado all pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, but the two men later dropped their pleas of innocence they will be given sanity hearings in April.

THIS IS A BEACH AND PARKING AREA — Tide-waters whipped by high wind invaded Muir Beach to provide this scene shortly after peak high tide this morning. Two houses were evacuated as the waves poured onto the land. Water and debris was carried into several others. (Independent-Journal photo)

STORM

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wallace of 1289 Lynwood drive. Flood waters invaded all seven rooms of the house about 5:30 a.m. Two inches of water left rugs and furniture thoroughly soaked and coated with silt.

Three other homes on Lynwood drive were damaged by the rising water, Mrs. Wallace said.

The waters apparently backed up after a drainage ditch along South Novato boulevard became clogged. Novato firemen were called to the scene to help residents rescue furniture from the rising water, which subsided by 8 a.m.

Black Point residents found themselves without lights at 7 a.m. when a power line near Highway 37 was broken by heavy winds. The break affected all Black Point and homes in the Lakewood road area. Service was restored by 9:30 a.m.

Electricity to a small area around Nicasio was out from 4 to 6:30 a.m. when a tree downed a line near Nicasio.

SAN RAFAEL—A thousand homes in the San Pedro road area were blacked out for an hour late yesterday when winds broke a 12,000-volt line.

Electricity was out in the west end about 5:30 a.m. today as wind downed wires in three locations near Forbes and H streets. Service was restored at 9:30 a.m.

Pupils at Sun Valley and West End Schools and San Rafael High got an extra holiday (after having last Thursday and Friday off).

Downed electric wires at Mission and Mary street were responsible for the break in service at San Rafael High, at the same time and of the same duration as that in the west end, said Leonard Robertson, district electric superintendent.

The weekend storm dumped 2.18 inches of rain on San Rafael. One foot of water made the Second and Lincoln streets area impassable this morning. The block of Grand avenue between Third and Fourth a lake. Corrugated metal sheets from the roof of the Ames Ford warehouse fell off during the downpour.

MUIR BEACH—A wind-driven tide filled two small cabins at Muir Beach Resort with knee deep water at 4 a.m. today. Kenneth Allen Davis, 26-year-old artist whose ankle is still in a cast from a fall last month over a hibachi, and a family of five were forced to flee from the turbulent water that was banging logs against the two cabins and a 42-foot house-trailer.

Robert Bolger, 41-year-old manager of the resort, evacuated his wife, Katherine, and their two small sons, Bobby, 1, and Johnny, 3, from the trailer. His daughter, Susan, 12, managed to sash from the small cabin next to the trailer, and Davis made his way from another in the row of cabins.

The evacuees were temporarily camping in the Muir Beach Tavern.

ROSS VALLEY—A five-foot tide at 6:30 a.m. plus a downpour of 3.5 inches caused Corte Madera Creek to overflow in at least two places.

Kentfield firemen manned their boats early this morning to ferry residents of low-lying Granton Park to higher ground.

Traffic on Sir Francis Drake boulevard near the Ross town limits was routed to Laurel Grove avenue at about 5 a.m. after the creek spilled over the thoroughfare.

The re-routing was complicated by an oak tree which fell across Laurel Grove avenue about 7:15 a.m. near Makin Grade. The tree was quickly cleared by the Ross street crew. By 7:45 a.m. Drake boulevard was open again.

LARKSPUR-CORTE MADERA—A large acacia tree toppled across Pepper avenue between Palm and Baltimore avenues this morning.

Harry Kramar, owner of Kramar's Shoe Store at Corte Madera Shopping Center, said two plate glass windows broke and fell into his display of shoes around 4 a.m.

Rainfall in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area ranged from 2.35 to 2.54 inches in 24 hours to 8 a.m. today.

FAIRFAX—Power was knocked out to houses on Bolinas road near the Meadow Club from 3:30 a.m. to 7 a.m., possibly by a tree falling on a line on the slopes of Mt. Tamalpais.

Fairfax and Woodacre rainfall for the weekend measured 3.3 inches.

PT. REYES PENINSULA—Power was broken at 4 a.m.

when two poles fell over near the Radio Corp. of America station. Service to Inverness was restored about 9 a.m. but the rest of the peninsula was still without electricity at 11 a.m.

MILL VALLEY AND SOUTH. MARIN—Winds up to 100 miles an hour were recorded at the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron atop Mt. Tamalpais early this morning.

Thomas S. West of 411 Maple street, Tamalpais Valley, said he recorded a barometric pressure of 29.3 at the height of the storm at 5 a.m. today. He said it was the lowest barometric reading he has recorded in 35 years in California, including 10 years in Tam Valley.

The wind blew part of his garage roof off. He estimated the velocity in gusts at 70 miles an hour.

A large tree was blown across the main road to the top of Mt. Tamalpais about two miles below the summit.

In Mill Valley, the city hall and nearby householders were without electric power starting at 4:30 a.m.

Fire Capt. James E. Mathews said the department's civil defense portable generator was immediately put into use to maintain emergency power for fire and police radio equipment and other emergency services.

Repairs were completed about 10 a.m.

Car Overtakes, Driver's Arm Hurt

Richard Emory Turner of 21 Roberts avenue, San Rafael, suffered scratches of the left arm and shoulder yesterday when his car flipped over while turning onto Eva street from Woodland avenue in San Rafael.

Turner told police he was doing about 25 or 30 miles per hour when the accident happened at 3:30 p.m. He was cited for speeding.

LAWYERS

an assault on the Supreme Court for its liberalism. I read the list as published in this morning's newspapers, and all the lawyers seem to be under attack for what they have done for their clients in court. I think the committee is using this as a method to attack the Supreme Court. To me, this is further evidence this committee should be abolished."

Dreyfus referred to the House committee, which had him under attack also two years ago during hearings in San Francisco, as "an irresponsible committee." He branded its charge a "smear."

Gladstein, who has been named repeatedly on lists of alleged "red" lawyers by the House committee, took the latest charge more calmly.

"It's the same old thing. About every two years I can count on them coming out with a report in which they name me," he said. "They're a little late this year. They usually do it in January."

Gladstein dismissed the "elite corps" charge by saying: "Whatever they say, there's no truth in it."

He said the attorneys listed appear to be principally those formerly active in the National Lawyers Guild, which former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell sought to have declared a subversive organization (the case was dropped by Brownell's successor). Gladstein said he was a vice president of the National Lawyers Guild at one time "but I haven't been a member or had anything to do with it for at least 10 years."

Gunshot Kills Inverness Man

Raymond Jule Hageman, 42-year-old radio receiving technician, shot and killed himself about 2:30 a.m. yesterday in the bedroom of his home at Vision road and Cameron way, Inverness, Sheriff Louis Mountanos reported.

The shooting occurred shortly after Hageman and his wife, Eunice, returned home after visiting friends.

Mrs. Hageman told officers her husband shot himself seconds after walking from the kitchen to the bedroom. Mrs. Hageman could offer no reason for her husband's sudden action.

Inspectors William Bradley and Carl Sears and Deputy William Christensen said Hageman's body was lying face-up on the floor. By the feet was a .25 caliber automatic pistol. A box of shells was on the dresser. Hageman was killed by a single shot in the right temple, the officers said.

Hageman was employed as a technician at the Radio Corp. of America receiving station in Inverness. He and his wife had no children.

In addition to his wife, Hageman leaves his mother, Mrs. Laura Proctor of Inverness and a sister, Mrs. Jean Dallinger of Burlingame.

Mill Valley Baby, Aged 4 Months, Dies In Crib

Paul John Schneider, 4-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Schneider of 288 East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, died in his crib early yesterday after an illness of several days.

The infant, who had been suffering from croup, was cold and apparently lifeless when his father checked him after waking at 8 a.m. Schneider summoned a doctor and an inhalator crew from the Mill Valley Fire Department. The physician pronounced the boy dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider told coroner's deputies they had stayed up with their son until 3 a.m. They said he had been examined by a pediatrician on Friday. He was born last Oct. 13 in San Francisco.

An autopsy performed yesterday at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley failed to establish the exact cause of death. The coroner's office said pathological specimens will be studied further.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch.

DANCE PARTNERS — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barozzi met at a dance in San Francisco more than a half century ago. And dancing to a four-piece orchestra was a major part of the celebration of their Golden Wedding in San Anselmo Saturday night. (Independent-Journal photo)

Golden Wedding Couple: They Kept On Dancing

Joe Barozzi and Louise Cassa met as teen-agers at a public dance in San Francisco more than a half-century ago; they were still dancing Saturday night as they celebrated their golden wedding with more than 100 guests at Star Hall in San Anselmo.

"Neither dad nor mother missed a dance all night," reported their daughter, Rosalie (Babe) Barozzi, who with her sisters and brother arranged the golden wedding celebration.

Italian-born Joe was 19 and San Francisco-born Louise was 17 when they said their marriage vows in St. Peter and Paul's Church in San Francisco on St. Valentine's Day of 1909. Twelve years later, they moved to San Anselmo, where they still reside at 47 Elm avenue.

Many houses, patios and garden walls in Marin County bear the mark of Barozzi's work. He was a stone mason, and still works part-time at it at a spry 69 years.

He is a member of Club Italia, and his wife of the Sons of Italy auxiliary. They keep up their dancing at functions of both organizations.

A special surprise guest at the Saturday night affair, which included a dinner, was Dick Totaro, 74, retired San Francisco barber who was best man at the Barozzis' wedding. They had not seen him since a few years after their marriage.

On hand also were their three daughters, "Babe," who lives with her parents; Mrs. Evelyn DeCostello of San Anselmo and Mrs. Marie Simon-tacchi of San Rafael; their son, William Barozzi of San Francisco, and their seven grandchildren. The five great-grandchildren were all too young for the party.

And the more than 100 guests included "cousins by the dozens," the daughters reported.

47 Marin Doctors Learn To Restore Human Heartbeat

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Some who read this article may be snatched from death because of what 47 Marin doctors have done with their Saturday mornings the past five weeks.

The 47 have devoted those mornings to an intensive course in a process previously known to only a few specialists—bringing back the beat of life to a heart that has stopped.

HEARTS IN HANDS

It has been no mere lecture course and moving picture presentation. They have held in their hands the hearts of anesthetized dogs. They have felt with their own nerves the flutter of dying hearts, and with the rhythmic grip of their own fingers, have brought those hearts back to the regular beat that means life renewed.

This writer watched as the last class completed its work Saturday in the annex of Marin General Hospital, under tutelage of Dr. Richard S. Hahn and Dr. Robert F. Schell, San Rafael surgeons.

HUMAN HEARTS

What these doctors did for the canine subjects in the course, they can do for human beings. Doubtless, some of them will some time.

Cardiac resuscitation, as the doctors term it, has been widely publicized. There have been stories of men who "dropped dead" in public places and were restored to life by "heart massage" by a physician who happened to be present.

The technique, however, is not that simple.

TWO REQUIREMENTS

Two things are immediately necessary, explained Dr. Hahn, in cases of cardiac arrest (heart stoppage): Circulate air or oxygen through the lungs, and restore the heart-beat.

To do the first, the best method is to place a tube in the mouth through which oxygen is supplied from an oxygen tank. If this is unavailable, the mouth-to-mouth technique may be used. (This latter has been found far superior to former methods of artificial respiration.)

To do the second, the doctor must make an incision in the chest so that he can grasp the heart with his hand, and with deep, steady grip must simulate its normal beating action until the heart itself responds.

Both must be done, emphasized the two instructors, within three or four minutes to have any real hope of success. By five minutes after the heart stops beating, the brain itself will have died from lack of oxygen.

ELECTRIC SHOCK

When the heart fibrillates (flutters) instead of picking up a normal beat, it may often be restored by a momentary electric shock of 110 volts at five to 10 amperes.

In cases of "complete standstill of the heart—rather than fluttering—Epinophrine and sometimes calcium chloride are introduced to assist in restoring the beat.

During the five-week course, the Marin doctors practiced all these necessary processes over-and-over, to acquire both skill and vitally necessary speed. It was, reported the Marin County Medical Society, the first such training clinic for practicing physicians and surgeons ever held in Northern California.

What may be the result of these five Saturday sessions?

Of 1,700 cases in the United States in which these methods have been used in attempting to bring back stopped hearts, 30 per cent have been restored.

THREE SUCCESSES

Dr. Hahn has personal knowledge of the effectiveness.

"Since I have been practicing in Marin," he said, "I have had 10 such cases. I have had three successes. Those three people, who are walking around now, would be dead if I had not known this technique."

Dr. Hahn is a heart specialist. But internists, radiologists, general practitioners all encounter cases where the heart unexpectedly stops beating—and when it might be restored by manipulation.

SATURDAY SACRIFICE

When that happens, there is no time to call in a specialist. There is at most five minutes before all hope is gone.

That is why the 47 doctors gave up their Saturday mornings for the course, which was arranged by the Marin County Medical Society in cooperation with Marin General Hospital and the Marin County Heart Assn., using hospital equip-

Young Legislators Go Home, Full Of Milk

SACRAMENTO—The Legislature aged overnight today.

High school delegates to the YMCA Youth Legislature wound up a three-day session and turned the Senate and Assembly chambers back to their regular occupants.

Returning lawmakers found that their weekend junior replacements had drunk 45 gallons of the Legislature's free milk and had passed 11 bills.

The youth drained dry the stainless steel milk dispenser which the Dairy Institute of California gave the Legislature only last week.

Among bills passed by the Youth Legislature were:

A six-year moratorium on the death penalty.

A measure revoking operators' licenses of "negligent minor drivers."

A bill to lower the compulsory school attendance age limit from 18 to 16 years for youths showing proof of employment.

A prohibition against athletic teams from tax-supported schools playing games against teams which exclude racial minorities.

The youth legislators turned down a bill calling for two mandatory semesters of sex education in high school, after Don Solem, 17, of Millbrae remarked: "We don't need that much education."

Youth Governor Jin told the young lawmakers the practice of civil rights is the first duty of Americans if democracy is to succeed.

Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto), speaker of the real Assembly, gave the youngsters parting advice to go home and take part in local politics.

"We here in the real Legislature are not playing a game," he said.

New Rule Affects Income Tax Challenges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new federal rule affecting challenged income tax returns goes into effect March 15.

Under the rule, taxpayers, defending their returns, may be represented by the persons who prepared them. Under current regulations, taxpayers either must defend their returns in person or hire lawyers or accountants admitted to practice before the Internal Revenue Service.

Cincinnati Cleric Declines Post As Suffragan Bishop

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rev. Morris Fairchild Arnold, rector of Christ Church in Cincinnati, has declined to accept the post of suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California to which he was elected recently, Bishop James A. Pike announced yesterday.

Expressing regret, Pike said "I know Mr. Arnold well enough to trust his sense of vocation and wish every blessing of God on the continuation of the outstanding urban work in Cincinnati."

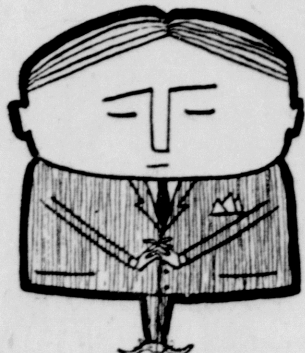

Pike said he is considering two possibilities—to call a special election to choose a suffragan bishop or to call an election to be held during the convention early in 1960.

Ike's Proposed Gas Tax Hike Doomed By Demo Leader

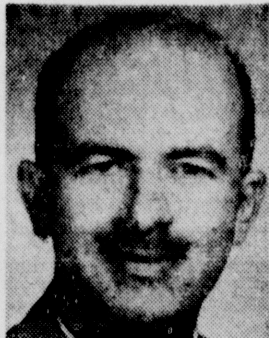

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William Mills (D-Ark.) has all but nipped chances for any tax cut or increases this year—including President Eisenhower's proposed gasoline tax hike. Mills, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, asked instead for a big revamping of the tax system. He said the present tax setup is out-dated and stunts the nation's economic growth.

Mills spoke last night to a conference of the Tax Executives Institute. His remarks followed an earlier statement by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) that Eisenhower's proposal to boost gasoline taxes 1 1/2 cent a gallon was unlikely to get much House support.

Stablehand Hurt; Horse Kicked Him

Henry (Hank) Craig, 34-year-old stablehand, was painfully injured yesterday when kicked in the right side by a horse he was feeding at the Meadow Club Stables near Fairfax.

Craig, who lives at the club, was admitted to Marin General Hospital with severe bruises of the chest and abdomen and possible internal injuries. Attendants said he was resting comfortably. The mishap occurred about 8:15 a.m.

Neck Injuries Can Be Serious

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

...A Detroit Doctor says cars should be equipped with head-rests. He states a driver's head is likely to snap back and cause a neck injury if the car is struck from the rear.

Neck injuries often are dismissed too lightly. The slight stiffness in the neck you may notice after a fall or a minor accident can develop into serious trouble.

Your neck has seven of the twenty-four bones or vertebrae of your spine. A fall or accident that snaps your neck may push one of the vertebrae out of line. This means that your spine will be out of line and the misaligned vertebrae are likely to pinch nerves leading to cells, muscles and organs. Any part of your body can break down when this happens. All parts of the body must receive vital nerve impulses from the brain to function properly. A lack of proper nerve impulses can cause almost any sickness you can name.

For safety, be examined by a chiropractor for any stiffness or tenderness of the neck or back.

For additional information on Chiropractic care (Palmer Method) write Dr. Robert W. Pearce at 1628 Fifth avenue in San Rafael, or address a card or letter to Dr. R. W. Pearce in care of Box 725, or call GL 3-6201. Advertisement

Brown Gives Go-Ahead On Oroville Dam

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown gave his go-ahead on Oroville Dam today. With that decision, he announced he would ask the Legislature for an additional $13,562,000 to start preliminary construction on the key unit of the Feather River Project.

The amount increases to 51 1/2 million dollars the total Brown proposes to spend this year on state water development. He has recommended a 500 million bond issue for the major features.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the need to proceed to construction at the earliest possible date to meet the flood control problem," the governor said in a statement.

Brown previously told the Legislature he would seek more money for the FRP after a board of engineering consultants settled on whether the state should start with a reservoir at Bidwell Bar or downstream at Oroville.

The board concluded "the large Oroville project is the only economic solution to the present flood hazard on the Feather River."

Five Burglary Suspects Arrested In Sausalito

Stopping a car for a traffic violation netted Sausalito police five teen-aged burglary suspects Saturday night.

Police said the youths admitted breaking into two parked cars earlier in the evening and stealing miscellaneous items.

The vehicles, owned by two Sausalitans, Janet Cox of 137 Prospect avenue and Robert Green of 170 San Carlos avenue, were in a large parking area off Spencer avenue, near Highway 101.

After the burglaries, the cars were pushed half-way over an earth ledge which surrounds the parking lot, officers said.

Arrested by Officer Andy Grimes were Phillip Brocklehurst, 18, of 84 Buckley avenue, Sausalito; two 15-year-old boys, from Marin City and Belveron Gardens; a Sausalito boy, aged 16, and a Corte Madera boy, aged 17.

The car, driven by the Marin City boy, was halted by Grimes at 10 p.m. because it was obstructing traffic in front of the Purity Store on Sausalito's Bridgeway.

While talking to the driver, Grimes glanced in back and spotted golf bags and clubs, one golf shoe, an auto battery, two auto jacks and a flashlight on the floor.

Brocklehurst was booked at the county jail on charges of burglary, petty theft and tampering with a vehicle. The others were taken to Juvenile Hall after being booked on identical charges.

Lagunitas Man Says Two Men Attacked Him

A 27-year-old Lagunitas man told Marin's sheriff's deputies he was attacked in his home early yesterday by two men he had befriended Saturday night in a San Francisco bar.

Robert E. Paulson, who lives about one-half mile behind the Lagunitas Lodge, said one of the men hit him on the head with a rock, opening a scalp wound. The injury was not believed serious.

Before departing, Paulson said, the pair rolled his car out of his garage and pushed it against an embankment, leaving the car partly hanging over the cliff. He said the attack occurred about 6 a.m., after he told the men he could not drive them back to the city because he had lost his car keys.

Paulson said both men were in their 30s. They wore sport clothes.

GIANTS' TRAINING CAMP REPORT

McCormick Due For Big Season?

MESA, Ariz. (P)—San Francisco's bonus left-hander, Mike McCormick, posted a creditable 11-8 record as a 19-year-old last season, but at times lacked stamina.

So when he says today, "I've filled out more in the chest and shoulders and feel physically stronger," it could mean he's coming into his own as a major league pitcher at age 20.

Mike says that only a couple of times last season did he actually feel tired, but at mid-game "when I'd start getting wild that was probably a symptom. I gave it all I had and if I ran out of gas they took me out."

This year the 6-foot-2 southpaw has the advantage also of last year's full-time duty.

"The more you pitch the more you learn," he said.

"There still is a lot of finesse I have to learn. No matter how much somebody stands and shows you what to do, you don't get experience until you stand up and do it."

McCormick signed a reported $65,000 bonus contract with the Giants upon finishing high school in Alhambra, Calif., in 1956. He pitched only seven innings with the club that year. The following season, mostly in relief, he posted a 3-1 mark in 76 innings. Last year he pitched 178 innings and eight complete games.

"I'm shooting for one of those regular starting assignments," he declared during preliminary conditioning here. "I feel strong enough to pitch every fourth day or so and I feel the more work I do the better I'll be."

McCormick currently weighs 194, little change from his 1958 weight, but says "it is distributed a little differently." He aims to keep between 190 and 195 for the season.

Although depending mainly on his zipping fast ball, Mike nevertheless feels his curve is improving and he'll also work on better control of a change-up which he described as "sort of screw-ball type—not a screw-ball, but thrown about that way."

He adds, "I don't want to get too strong. Then you try to fire the ball by everyone, then you get wild. Control still is the most important factor."

Considered one of the top young pitchers in baseball, McCormick declares that the Giants after last year's youth movement "can have a good team for quite a few years. Our outlook for this year is good. As the race stands now anybody can win it. We'll be right up there."

PHOENIX, Ariz. — If you haven't had the pleasure of meeting him before now, please allow us to introduce Edward T. Brannick. If you have met him previously, we know you will be pleased to renew the friendship because here is a man who never is a bore.

Eddie Brannick hasn't changed much in the 53 years he has been with the Giants. His Irish eyes now need the assistance of hornrimmed bifocals, that's true. And his once black hair now has the inevitable pepper and salt look. But he still loves baseball and the Giants still are his first love.

Kathleen Regina Duggan, who only displays displeasure when one of the "g's" are omitted from her maiden name to give it a "Doo-gan" instead of "Dug-gan" pronunciation, knew all about Brannick's first love when she married him in Fordham Chapel in 1922.

She understood in the same way a Navy skipper's bride understands her man's love for his ship.

"I'm twice blessed," says Brannick, "with my Kathleen and my Giants. I never had any doubt the Giants were my team. And I never had any doubt that Kathleen—the girl who lived on 44th street, four blocks from the Brannick on 48th—was the girl I wanted to marry."

WHEN BRANNICK speaks of 44th and 48th street he naturally expects you to understand he means his native New York City which he found a little difficult to leave last year when the Giants moved to the Golden Gate from the Polo Grounds.

But he never had any serious doubt that he would come west with the Giants for whom he shagged balls and tended the Polo Grounds scoreboard before John T. Brush, then owner of the Giants, hired him as a $3 a week piece boy in 1905.

That was the year Christy Mathewson pitched three shutouts for John McGraw against Connie Mack's Athletics in the World Series. Of course, Mathewson was the hero of all Giant fans, including Brannick.

SO IT WAS understandable how a few years later, when he had been promoted to handling Pullman reservations and other travel details for the team, Brannick thought "Mr. Mathewson" was entitled to special consideration, such as a lower berth.

Brannick soon was set straight by McGraw who ordered:

"Put his name in a hat with the others and draw for upper and lowers. There are no prima donnas on this team."

That was the first of many lessons Brannick was taught by McGraw who "had no favorites." Another lesson McGraw taught him is one that all Giant players ever since have appreciated. Always travel first class, stay at the best hotels.

"In a good hotel you're sure of air conditioning and fresh linen," said Brannick, who although secretary of the club many years now, still handles all travel reservations for the team. "Fresh air and fresh linen mean a good night's sleep—mighty important."

BRANNICK delights in recalling anecdotes about McGraw who was a hard loser and couldn't stand seeing a smile on the face of one of his Giants if they lost.

"If he did catch one of his men smiling," said Brannick, "he would rasp 'I'll wipe that off his face' and he would. It was best not to be around him if the team lost."

That's another lesson Brannick learned from McGraw. Brannick, like the boy who shagged balls in the Polo Grounds at the turn of the century, still feels sick whenever the Giants lose and he doesn't feel much like smiling.

Physicist Pilots U.S. To World Bobsled Championship

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (P)—Art Tyler, 43-year-old Weston, Mass., physicist, has given the United States its first world four-man bobsled title in six years. And with it came the renewed hope that the 1960 Winter Olympics may again include bobsled competition.

Tyler, who didn't take up the sport until he was 35, conquered the tricky and treacherous mile-long chute and the world's best bobsleers yesterday as he posted a total time of 5 minutes, 10.82 seconds for four runs.

Tyler's time, including a record run of 1:17.42 in Saturday's second heat, gave the American sled a margin of 35 hundredths of a second over the second place Italian sled, piloted by Sergio Zardini. The Italians were clocked in 5:11.17.

International bobsled officials figure the American victory will arouse new interest in the sport in the United States and thus may help swing the International Olympic committee toward permitting a separate Olympic bobsled event at Lake Placid, N. Y., in 1960.

However, Tyler is not likely to represent the United States in 1960. He told newsmen after his victory that he had decided to quit racing because of his wife's request after seeing several accidents in warm-up races.

Tyler's triumph was the seventh American four-man title since the world championships were first held in 1924. The last American to win was Lloyd Johnson of Madison, Wis., at Garmisch in 1933.

Giants Send Lockman To Baltimore

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Cotton-topped Whitey Lockman, a solid member of the Giants for 14 years, now belongs to the Baltimore Orioles.

Lockman's contract was sold yesterday to the American League club as the transplanted Polo Grounders severed another tie with the days of Coogan's Bluff.

"We're sure that Baltimore will benefit from him," said Giant Secretary Eddie Brannick, who added that terms were not being disclosed.

Lee MacPhail, the Orioles' general manager, said that the 32-year-old North Carolinian should answer Baltimore's need for another first baseman "of proven major league ability to back up Bob Boyd."

The Giants brought Lockman up from their Jersey City farm club in 1945 and he had been with them ever since except for a stint with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1956.

Lockman, who batted .238 in a utility role last year, kept that storied eighth inning rally alive against Brooklyn in 1951 by cracking a single just before Bobby Thomson's homer won the pennant.

Five M.V. Women Win At Sonoma

Five Mill Valley women golfers won places in the North Bay Women's Golf Assn. tournament at Sonoma Friday.

They were: Mrs. Lloyd Seitzinger, low net for the field with a 103-27-76; Mrs. George Prydz, second in Class A, 98-18-80; Mrs. Clay Lilleston, second in Class B, 102-23-79; Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, third in Class B, 102-21-81; Mrs. W. B. Smillie, second in Class D, 112-30-82.

Among the Mill Valley golfers who stayed home to play their home course Friday in a medal handicap tournament, Mrs. Richard Finn won low net with a 92-20-72, followed by Mrs. Henry Seagle with 105-31-74 and Mrs. Lester Calender, 107-32-75.

SECOND IN A ROW

Littler's Rally Wins At Tuscon

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—A 250-yard approach that stopped eight feet from the 18th pin clinched the $15,000 Tucson Open and his second tournament in a row for Gene Littler yesterday.

It didn't matter that his putt for an eagle stopped an inch short. Littler tapped in a birdie and won $2,000.

"That wood shot was the key to the tourney," he grinned.

The San Diego pro trailed rookie Joe Campbell by six strokes and Art Wall Jr. by three going into the final round.

Playing conditions on the par-70, 6,434-yard El Rio Course were ideal, the temperature in the mid 70s.

Both leaders faltered, soaring over par. Littler took the lead with a 20-foot putt from the apron of the 13th green for a birdie. Going into the 550-yard 18th, he led by a stroke.

The tournament was over when Littler's second shot was pin high. Wall birdied the hole for the fourth time. Campbell needed a 40-foot putt for an eagle and a tie. He missed by a foot, but got a birdie.

Littler's 14-under-par 65-67-68-66—266 was two strokes better than his winning total at Phoenix the week before.

Campbell and Wall tied with 267s. Campbell's 65-64-65-73 was good for $1,350, as was Wall's 66-64-67-70.

Campbell's putt on the ninth hung on the rim for two minutes before it finally dropped for a birdie. The stroke he gained when it fell boosted his prize money by $375—the difference between a second place tie and a four-way tie for fourth.

That was the only luck the former Walker Cup player had. His drive on the fourth hole rolled into an irrigation ditch and he went two over par.

Three putts of 18 inches stopped on the rim. Altogether he three-putted four greens.

Wall remains the big money winner of the tour with $14,950. Littler moved into second place with $7,083.

Master's champion Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., Bill Johnston, Provo, Utah and Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., closed with sub-par rounds and 12-under-par 268s. That earned them $900 each.

Bunched at 269 were Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.; Paul O'Leary, Bellflower, Calif.; Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif., and Walt Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich.

Storm Spoils Opening Of Salmon Season

The salmon apparently were there waiting, but the party boats couldn't get to them.

That was the sad state of affairs that confronted northern California trollers over the weekend as they tried to open the 1959 salmon season.

The heavy storm that lashed the coast over the weekend made it impossible for the Bay Area fleet to get outside the Golden Gate.

Only one craft — Elwood Meadows' 65-foot Privateer II —got outside Saturday for the opener and fought the elements for five hours at Duxbury Bouy. The party enjoyed some success, taking eight fish while at least a dozen others were hooked before breaking off.

The success of the Privateer II in those adverse conditions indicated some fine trolling is in prospect as soon as the weather calms down.

Pepperdine Still Has Slim Hope Of Overtaking Gaels

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pepperdine's slim hopes for the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball title survived with its easy 68-52 victory over San Jose State Saturday night.

Now holding a 5-3 WCAC record, the Waves would have to clamber over second-place College of the Pacific 5-2, and league-leading St. Mary's, 6-0, to grab the crown.

To take the WCAC lead, Pepperdine would have to win both its games this week, the second against St. Mary's on Saturday. And St. Mary's would have to lose all three of its games, a most unlikely prospect. One of the Gaels' three games is against cellar-dwelling San Jose, 1-8, on Friday.

Bears Batter Bruins; Cards Still In Race

To no one's surprise, the California Bears are still on top in the Pacific Coast Conference basketball race after another full round of action.

The Bears, aiming at their third straight conference title, bowled over hapless Oregon Friday, 83-55, and once-formidable UCLA on Saturday, 64-51 at Berkeley.

The two victories put the Bears a full game in front of Washington and the only way the Huskies can catch California is with the help of some other teams. Washington has already met the Bears twice this season and lost on both occasions.

Stanford, coming on with a late season spurt, kept itself in mathematical contention, one and a half games off the pace, by repeating California victories over UCLA and Oregon. UCLA fell to the Indians, 69-61 and Oregon lost, 64-53.

Washington easily beat Oregon State, 75-59 in its only weekend game, with Doug Smart's 20 points leading the way.

Southern California split a weekend pair in the north. The Trojans clipped Idaho, 69-65 Friday, but dropped a close 77-75 contest to Washington State when Jim Ross tossed in a 25-foot jump shot in the last eight seconds.

California's victory over UCLA gave the Bears an 8-2 record in PCC play. The Bruins salvaged some consolation from the performance of their ace guard, Walt Torrance. He got 23 points and leads the PCC individual scoring race with 227 points.

Games Of 280, 279 Highlight Second Day Of ABC Event

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Games of 280 and 279 provided the excitement in the second day of the 56th annual American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The 280 game was turned in by John Parsons, a 29-year-old painter from Louisville, Ky. The score helped put Parsons and his partner, Jacques Curwen, in first place in the doubles division.

Parsons' 662 series and Curwen's 590 also game them 1252 total.

The 279 game was rolled by Harve Barnhill of East St. Louis, Ill.

Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton, also, kept its grip on first place in the Open Division with 2955, although it received a minor threat of 2910 by Ode's Television and Radio of Detroit.

The Booster Division got a new leader when Jones Trucking Lines of Muskogee, Okla., carved out a 2712 Sunday and replaced Livergood Grain, Co., Findlay, Ill., which rolled 2688 Saturday.

HITS 7-FEET AGAIN

Thomas Predicts World Record Jump Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—John Thomas calmly predicted today he will high jump 7 feet, 1 1/4 inches in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships Saturday.

No one in history ever has propelled himself that high—indoors or outdoors.

The world outdoor record is 7-1 by the Soviet Union's Yuri "Elevator Shoe" Stepanov.

The amazing 17-year-old Boston University freshman cleared an even 7-feet for the second time in three weeks in the New York Athletic Club Games in Madison Square Garden last Saturday and just did miss at 7-1 1/4.

"But I think I'll do it at the AAU championships," said the 6-4 1/2 Thomas. "I was disappointed that I didn't do it in the New York A.C. meet. I don't know what happened to me."

After clearing 7 feet (he's still the only man alive to make the height indoors) Thomas tried for 7-1 1/4. He missed all three tries, but barely touched the crossbar on the second effort.

He didn't want to mention it—and, in fact, didn't—but he had a slight muscle pull as a result of winning the hurdles in the New England AAU championships last Wednesday.

He also had a couple of psychological blocks working against him.

Even if he never does beat 7 feet, Thomas' mark is certain to be recognized by the AAU. When he jumped 7 feet for the first time in the Millrose meet, officials forgot to measure the cross bar as required by rules in the confusion.

This time, a whole horde of them raced to the bar as soon as John went over. Tape measures appeared from all over.

Cronin Good President For A. L.; He Learned Baseball The Hard Way

If it happened to my own son, I do not think I could be any happier than knowing Joe Cronin is safely entrenched as president of the American League.

Joe is a San Francisco kid whom I've known since he was in swaddling clothes as a baseball player. I watched him, but never saw much of him after he arrived in the National League with Pittsburgh, strictly on the say so of the late Joe Devine, at that time Pirate scout and later to become famous as the Yankees principal ivory hunter.

I never quite understood why Cronin, a San Franciscan, advised Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox to buy the S.F. Seals, and then walked out of the deal, selling to the N. Y. Giants and allowing the National League to come to S.F.

Sounds strange, doesn't it? But I'm just daft enough to think that about the time Cronin moved into San Francisco with the Red Sox he was advised that he had two choices—either stay with the Red Sox and develop San Francisco as a major league city or move back home to Boston and await the job that has just been handed him.

CRONIN undoubtedly was to run interference for the American League in the West, but somehow he was sidetracked.

It could have been that when Phil Wrigley of the Los Angeles club saw the handwriting, he advised the American League he would never allow his Angels to pass out of his hands unless to a National League club.

All this may be so much palava, but it makes sense if you know baseball loyalty.

Wrigley suddenly switched to the National League purchasers of his dad's club because he must have known that no American League club, on its own, could battle the West Coast. There had to be two clubs.

And I am advised that Cronin saw the picture and the new job, he decided that Boston didn't belong in S.F., unless it could get Los Angeles to string along with them.

SO, ANYHOW, that is the big gossip along the baseball rialto today as the teams start winging into spring training.

Cronin has been a very lucky boy in baseball. The biggest break in his life came when the Pirates shipped him to the American League at Washington. There Joe found his friend, the late Clarke Griffith as well as his present wife. And the trio helped Joe elbow his way to one of the highest jobs in the national pastime.

Cronin goes into the presidency of the American League as the most popular player, manager, business manager and baseball executive who ever occupied the job.

IF I MAY be bold enough to say it, Cronin, the late Harry Heilmann and myself are graduates of Sacred Heart College in San Francisco. It is the only college in America that sent two players to baseball's Hall of Fame.

The American League is lucky, and so is baseball, to have a player from the ranks climb the ladder to the top.

And if I know this Cronin fellow, he'll be the most understanding president the American League ever had... he learned baseball the hard way.

QUEEN SAW SPOTS—AND STAYED HOME

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (P)—The Old Forge Winter Carnival was a big flop for the girl named to reign as queen. Miss Adele Robeson, 20, of Penn Yan woke up Saturday morning and discovered she had chicken pox.

She stayed in bed at a hotel in this resort village while Mrs. Art Togle, whose husband was crowned king, substituted for her.

Symington Says U.S. Fails To Meet Top Missile Output

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Me.) says the United States could make a great many more missiles if it wanted to.

Disagreeing with President Eisenhower's view that the nation is going forward with missiles as rapidly as possible under the present setup, Symington said:

"He (Eisenhower) may say we are going forward as rapidly as possible, because he believes we are spending as much money as we should in the missile field. That is his opinion. I do not agree."

Symington, who has been mentioned by some as a possibility for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said he would favor more taxes if that meant greater security.

Castro Takes Over Cuban Premiership

HAVANA (UP)—Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro formally takes up the reins of government today as premier of Cuba, at 32 the youngest in the turbulent 57-year history of the Caribbean island republic.

Intimates said the bearded young lawyer would make labor and agrarian problems his primary objectives.

Castro was named premier Saturday by President Manuel Urrutia following the resignation of Jose Miro Cardona, in what was generally viewed as the first step toward the presidency.

A revision in the provisional constitution last week lowered the age requirement for president from 35 to 30 years.

The political developments virtually overshadowed the opening today of a new trial for Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, the Batista officer branded Cuba's "No. 1 war criminal." Sosa Blanco was condemned to death by a military tribunal sitting in the Sports Palace last month.

Some 30,000 spectators jammed the arena during the trial which was broadcast and televised. The proceedings drew heavy criticisms from abroad.

It costs you taxpayers not one penny cash outlay (except membership fee) to join in. If you are at all interested in getting refunds of taxes that have been illegally collected, come to this meeting and learn all about it. To get this refund YOU MUST ACT IMMEDIATELY TO JOIN WITH US — ACTION HAS TO BE TAKEN PRIOR TO JULY 1ST OF 1959.

Segni Sworn In As Head Of Italian Government

ROME (P)—Antonio Segni was sworn in today as head of Italy's government.

His cabinet was made up entirely of members of his own Christian Democrat party, which has less than a majority in Parliament. Promised right-wing support from Liberals and Monarchists made Segni virtually sure of winning at least his first vote of confidence, probably within a week.

President Giovanni Gronchi swore Segni into office after approving his cabinet lineup.

Segni needed no parliamentary vote of confidence to assume office. But late this week or early next both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate must approve the Cabinet. Failure to get this would force him to resign.

The 68-year-old leader's Cabinet is limited to Christian Democrats only. The party, although Italy's largest, is 26 votes short of the 299 necessary for a majority in the Chamber of Deputies. It falls four votes short of a Senate majority.

The Liberals, a right-of-center group with 4 seats in the Senate and 17 deputies, have agreed to back the Segni government on the first confidence votes. The new premier is expected to pick up the nine additional necessary deputies from the 23 Monarchists in the chamber.

Amintore Fanfani's left-of-center coalition of Christian Democrats and Democratic Socialists resigned three weeks ago under the weight of opposition from rightist Christian Democrats and defections from Democratic Socialist members of the coalition.

Segni, a Sardinian, fashioned a government leaning slightly to the right.

Senate Demos To Help Carry On Dulles Policy

WASHINGTON (P)—Senate Democrats promised today a full measure of cooperation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policies during Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' illness.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said after a conference with Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Foreign Relations Committee that Democrats will do everything they can to help keep administration foreign policies intact.

"It will be the policy of the majority to advise and consult with the administration in every possible way in an attempt to help them develop a strong, positive foreign policy," Johnson said.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), other members of the committee, made similar pledges in separate interviews.

Dulles, in Walter Reed Army Hospital, starts this week a series of radiation treatments for cancer. The new malignancy, announced Saturday, was discovered after a hernia operation Dulles had undergone the day before.

The State Department said yesterday that Dulles' condition "continues satisfactory." During the day the secretary talked for about 15 minutes with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

Herter, returning Saturday night from a South Carolina vacation, told newsmen he would accept appointment as secretary of state if President Eisenhower asked him to. But he said Eisenhower had not sounded him out in any way about the possibility of replacing Dulles.

Eisenhower said Saturday that Dulles would continue on the leave of absence he obtained to undergo the operation.

Dulles' doctors, meantime, gave him a fighting chance to recover enough from the cancer to remain on the job at least part time. They took the view it is still too early to tell what course Dulles' illness may take, especially in a man of his strength and will power.

SAINT VALENTINE reigned Saturday night at the Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society "Fantasia Ball." Pinning a heart on Mack Giles of San Rafael is Mrs. Otto Jacobsen, San Rafael. Watching the ceremony is William Johnson of Oakland and Mrs. Jack Pomeroy of Kentfield.

AN 'ENCHANTED EVENING' was the theme for the ball which was held at the Meadow Club. Decorations for the gala included cupids, manzanita

Noted Characters 'Have A Ball -- At Outdoor Art Club's Hi Jinx

Characters from the stage, TV and world affairs "had a ball" at the Outdoor Art Club's annual jinx Thursday afternoon which had as its theme "Personalities of 1958."

Decor setting the keynote, such as sputniks, Jupiters and vanguards hung from the ceiling, was done by Mesdames U. G. Karrer, E. C. Greenwood and T. F. Collison. Also on the walls were sketches of outstanding personalities of the year done by Mrs. Collison.

Festivities opened with a sherry hour highlighted by much chatter about who was who and exclamations of surprise as some extraordinary character appeared.

Individual lunches in paper bags, a very efficient plan for such an occasion, were provided by Mrs. Mills Calahan and her committee.

For entertainment there were nine acts presented under the direction of Mrs. Stewart Bostwick with Mrs. John Shortridge acting as master of ceremonies.

Especially amusing was a parody on the club's "L'Ecole de Cuisine" starting its second session this week, with Mrs.

Edmond Mahon playing the part of Chef Mayer, assisted by Mrs. Lowell Jett and Mrs. A. P. Baukol—Mrs. Jett in one of the outstanding costumes of the day as Brigitte Bardot.

RUSSIAN DANCERS
Members of an elaborately costumed group who did a take-off on the famous Russian Moiseiev Dancers were Mesdames E. L. Edgerton, Jules de Beaubien, John Ziegler, Michael Amoroso, Samuel Seifert and LeRoy Waigand.

Starring in a hilarious "Queen For A Day" skit were Mesdames Earle Marsh as Jack Bailey and Mrs. Preston Burris as "Lydia Pinkham," the sponsor; Mrs. Donald Smith as a glamorous assistant; and as contestants, Mesdames P. T. Smith, John Hughes, Kenneth Beebe, and Kenneth Rall. Mrs. E. M. Tobin was commentator for the prize gown modeled by Mrs. Mahon and Mrs. J. M. Hahn to piano accompaniment by Mrs. Gordon Harrington.

Twirling hula hoops were Mrs. Gerald McDonogh and Mrs. Walter Long, and Mrs. Preston Kane performed with Indian clubs in a parody of physical culturist Jack La-Lanne.

Very authentic were Mrs. Frederick VanDyke's costume and dance as Sonali Das Gupta, latest bride of Roberto Rossellini, played by Mrs. Horace Cagwin.

A musical interlude was contributed by Mrs. John Barnard in a Mexican costume as she played on the piano "Five Scenes from Childhood" by Pinto.

Not so musical was a beatniks quintet's playing of odd instruments under the leadership of "Big Daddy" of North Beach fame, impersonated by Mrs. John K. Bloom, and his "girls," Mesdames Eugene Crawford, Warren Erskine, E. R. Michaelsen and Jack Younger, reader of the poem recited to the "Music."

'AUNTIE MAME'
Finale of the Hi Jinx was an "Auntie Mame" skit with cast composed of Mesdames Rex Searles as Mame; Ralph Martindale as her young ward; John Buckley as Vera; Rutherford Gilfillan as Agnes; and G. A. Harrison as George Babcock.

Among others noted in costume—Mesdames William Bent-

Valentine Setting For Luncheon Meet

Hearts and flowers decorated the Social Hall of the San Rafael Presbyterian Church for the luncheon meeting of the Women's Society on Feb. 12.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Leroy Wilkie's Circle. Camellias, daphne and smilax decorated the tables with lovely Valentines placed about the room and on each table.

At each cover was the new 1959 year book.
Dr. John Jefferson Canoles gave the invocation and the devotions being introduced by Mrs. Canoles. The two had only recently returned from a vacation for health reasons in the Mojave Desert.

Dr. Canoles chose Hebrews 11 for his Scripture reading. He also paid tribute to Lincoln as the symbol of America. Dr.

Canoles closed his devotions by reading Vachel Lindsay's "Lincoln Walks at Midnight."

Mrs. George Arnold, music chairman, introduced the Rev. Herrick Lane, visiting pastor, who pleased with several violin solos accompanied by Mrs. John Bagshaw, pianist. Selections were Fritz Kreisler's arrangement of "Rondino," Rudenstien's "Romance" and Mendelssohn's "Concerto."

President of the Womens Society, Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Harold Fisher. The latter, with her husband, has been engaged in missionary work in Lebanon for more than five years. The two have been associated with the Beirut College for women in the radio broadcasts and audio-visual education programs. Beirut College is the only accredited four year college in the Middle East and has an enrollment of 500. Educate a woman and you educate a family, is the belief of the missionary workers.

The college has pioneered, too, in home economics.

Boys and girls have had co-educational education only since the close of World War II. Work is now being done in the realm of hospitals, she said, where the work is entering a new phase in Syria and Lebanon, now under the direction of the local church program. Help is needed she added.

She described the Middle East "as old as history and as modern as new." They have come from a camel to a Cadillac in one generation, the speaker said.

Sixty-two million are adherents to Islam beliefs and four and one-half million to Christian faith in the Middle East.

Mrs. Fisher quoted the call to prayer which rings out five times daily. In part it is "God is most great, there is no God but God, Mahomet is His apostle . . ."

Mrs. Fisher gave brief biographies of several Lebanon people it had been her privilege to know.

Lebanon is a man's world, she said, but women are being emancipated and are now demanding a great deal.

Mrs. Archibald conducted the business meeting following Mrs. Fisher's talk, announcing the World Day of Prayer which was held Feb. 13 in St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Lenten meetings will be conducted at 10 a.m. March 19 and March 26 by Dr. Neil Hamilton of the Seminary. Meetings will be held in the Geneva Room.

The Presbyterian will be held in March in San Anselmo. On March 13 and 14 the evening circle will hold its annual rummage sale.

The new morning circle will have as its projects the service of arranging receptions following wedding ceremonies when the church parlors are used.

Newest social and money raising event to be undertaken by the society will be a series of Vanishing Teas.

The March meeting will be hosted by Mrs. James Campbell and her group when Mrs. G. L. Rice will give the program. At the March meeting each member is requested to bring a tea towel.

Mrs. Wilkie's group carried on in her absence Thursday when Mrs. Wilkie was obliged to undergo surgery. In Mrs. Wilkie's Circle were Mesdames Fleeta Triage, Emerson Yates, Rex Silvernale, Frank Boileau, Peter Cazassa, Clifford Bartlett, J. A. Meddaugh, J. F. Barnes, Anna Meagor and Miss Minnie Henley.

Welcomed back following a long absence occasioned by illness was Mrs. William Patching.

District President To Visit Auxiliary

Mrs. Mildred Walker, fifth district president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will make her official visit to the Mill Valley Unit this evening.

Reports will be given by chairmen on work done in community service, rehabilitation, child welfare, membership and Americanism during the past year, and general chairman for the evening will be Mrs. R. H. Slonecker.

Preparations are under way for an auxiliary Rummage Sale on April 23-25 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter Meyer and Mrs. Elsie Greubel. Featured at the sale will be a plant booth and almost new articles.

Camp Fire Girls Visit Floral Shop

The Cheerful Blue Birds from the Fourth Grade at Laurel Dell School and the Tawana Camp Fire Group, both from San Rafael, were recent visitors at the Larkspur florist shop of Katherine Eubanks.

Blue Birds attending with Mrs. T. C. Humphries were Sandy Humphries, Sandra Shields, Nancy Tabor, Carol Earwood, Denise Ritter, Phyllis Varner, and Jennifer Richards.

Leaders of the Camp Fire group were Mrs. Robert Bold and Mrs. Ray Edmondson, while troop members participating included Lois McInnes, Sandra Twist, Sheri Edmondson, Cathy Hewelcke, Stephanie Howard, Marsha Mecham, and Susan McInnis.

2 Teachers Are Honored At Davidson

Two teachers who have served San Rafael schools for a combined total of nearly 59 years, were honored recently by the Davidson School Parent-Teacher Association, when they were presented with honorary life memberships.

The work of Mrs. Charles T. Redding and Mrs. Walter A. Barnes was cited as outstanding in the community when the pins were presented by Mrs. Earl Dixon. Both women are now teaching sons and daughters of former students of theirs.

Mrs. Redding began her teaching career in Marysville, and approached San Rafael by way of Dixie and Tiburon, where she was a principal. She came to E Street School in 1926 and has taught seventh and eighth grade mathematics since then, coming to Davidson when the upper grade were moved to the school.

Mrs. Barnes' field is English and social studies. She came to San Rafael in 1933. Her daughter, Virginia went through the San Rafael schools, and then to Stanford to become a doctor. She is a specialist in dermatology, now practicing in Marin County.

The statement made with the presentation of the pins read in part: "Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Redding, you have contributed a great deal to the education and, even more important, to the character development of an estimated 8,000 girls and boys, many of whom have already entered the ranks of useful, mature citizens, and you are beloved by every one of them."

POSTERS FROM foreign countries will be the decorations theme at the Sir Francis Drake P-TA "Foreign Flair" fashion and sports car show

THE SHOW is staged primarily to benefit the American Foreign Field Service Program in sending students from Drake overseas this summer. Paul Speegle will serve as master of

TICKETS FOR THE event will be sold Feb. 20 at Macy's in San Rafael. The productions are scheduled at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Decorating for the circus production are, left to right, Mesdames John Roll, chairman, and Sydney Dorn, and back, left to right, Mesdames Gaetan Ingrassia and James Agnew. ## 'The Clown' To Be Occasion Of Round Of Parties By Small Fry

Members of the Junior Social Service Auxiliary are busy with preparations for the annual stage play they are sponsoring for children.

The play, entitled "The Clown" is being presented by the College of the Holy Name at the San Rafael High School auditorium on Saturday, Feb.

21 at 10:30 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. Everyone is invited to bring their children and friends. Tickets may be bought at the door that day or by calling Mrs. William Haley of Ignacio. Members of the auxiliary will also have a booth at Macy's to sell tickets on Friday, Feb. 20, the day before the performance.

Mrs. John Roll, chairman of the event, promises that children of ages four through 12 will be especially thrilled with "The Clown."

It is an exciting story of Dodo, a clown who runs away from the circus because all his life he has wanted to tell stories. He tells the audience of all his tales—the kind with laughter, tears, dancing dolls, robbers, a talking horse and clowns. The children will love his story of Mrs. Frumpkins, "the best doll-maker in all the world" with her walking and talking dolls. And then he has a story about a horse who meets up with Boo and Ugle, two robbers. Dodo has a suitcase of tricks and magic to appeal to all children.

The cast is composed of 17 members, the girls from Holy Name College and the boys from St. Mary's College.

So far, many groups are planning to attend. Mrs. Arthur C. Latno Jr., president of the auxiliary will be bringing her two little girls, Jeannine and Michele. Also, Mrs. Francis Walsh, past president of the Juniors and now a member of the board will take her two sons. Mrs. Roy Olson's daughter will be celebrating her third birthday that day, which will be a big event for little Diane as names of all birthday children will be inducted into the play. To help her celebrate will be Mrs. Anton Lomich's children, Mike and Mary. Mrs. John Roll's six-year-old twins, Connie and Steve, will bring along a party of friends from Mill Valley, including Jim and David Watson and Jeffrey and Jenny Martin. Mrs. George Anderson's daughter, Laura Ruth, is another celebrant and her party includes Julie Carlsen, Merri Hallihan, Lori Schwartz, Janice and Lura Magee, Marcia Graham, Susie Huffaker, Elaine Arnone, and Margaret Nathe.

Little Cathy and Sue Kline-man of San Rafael are bringing along their cousins Karen and Kaela Christensen along with Belinda and George Gaskell and Diane Fernbacher. A small group from Coleman School First Grade will be Dana Jones and her friends Tommy Brown, Lisa Chapman, and Nancy Dorking.

Mrs. Robert O'Mara has invited a group of neighbors to join her children Jane and Johnny. With them will be Donald Neu, Cathy and Roberta Krohn. Coming from Loma Verde will be Mrs. William Haley and two of her children, Jeanie and Tim, with Nancy and Barbara Keegan, Kathy and Liz Lake, Michele, Danni and Steven Olivier and coming from Daly City to join Mrs. Haley's group will be Patty and Rich Hoedt.

The Juniors are anticipating a delightful affair for all small fry and know that the children will walk away thrilled.

SUNNY HILLS

Auxiliary Sets First Lunch-Style Show

Guests should be dancing on air at the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary's first fund-raising luncheon-fashion show in their spring series at the Meadow Club on Wednesday, Feb. 25. The "Ballarama" theme leads to some original decorative ideas which will be created by Mrs. Walter Meinberger and her decorations committee consisting of the Mesdames Philip Crane, Herbert M. Hanson Jr., Calvin Plummhof, David Dorward, Lee M. Cecil, and Dale Schnell.

Of unusual interest will be the ballet presentation which will precede the fashion show. Mrs. Marya Morton, fashion director of Capezio's dance and fashion footwear from New York City, is bringing members of the San Francisco Ballet over to perform in a brief history of Capezio's, based on dance steps of this century. Then she will commentate on the fashion show, which will feature clothing from the Ross Valley Shop of Kentfield, and Capezio's shoes from The Sandal, Inc., of Sausalito. Under Mrs. John J. O'Neill's chairman ship, members of the Junior Auxiliary will act as models.

They will include the Mesdames William T. Brantman, Phillip F. Brown Jr., Samuel Crowell, William J. Cassidy Jr., Thomas Carson, George C. Faulkner, Sydney B. Ford, Robert Lashley, Peter Mackey, William A. Niccolls, Alfred Oyster Jr., and John B. Willcutt.

St. Anselm's Guild To Hear Expert Of Children's Reading

"Can Parents Help Children Read?" will be the subject of a talk by Sister Eileen Marie at a general meeting of the St. Anselm's Parent-Teachers' Guild in San Anselmo on Thursday night, Feb. 19, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. John L. Bodeen, chairman, says that Sister Eileen Marie is director of the Reading Center at the College of the Holy Names in Oakland. She received a degree at the Catholic University of America extension at the Dominican College in San Rafael. Since then Sister Eileen Marie has had extensive experience in teaching and administrative work in elementary schools. Sister Eileen Marie will go from San Anselmo to Sacramento where she has been invited to speak to the Fourth Annual Reading Conference to be held February 21 at Sacramento State College. She will cover the literature program for the junior high school level student.

The January meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Guild attracted an overflow crowd for a panel discussion on the importance of the father as head of the family. On the subject

"Where Is Dad?" the panel discussed ways and means of combating the many social and business demands upon a father which interfere with his family responsibilities.

Rt. Rev. John McGarr was moderator. On the panel were Dr. Thomas Snead, Dr. William McCann, Terry Purcell, and Mrs. Walter Del Treddici. The latter provided one of the evening's most amusing moments when she quoted her husband as saying "Someone in the family has to be inhibited and it may as well be the children."

Lynwood P-TA Hears Crossing Discussion

The removal of the paid guard at the Lynwood School crossing was the discussion topic at a recent meeting of the Lynwood P-TA.

John Pilacelli introduced the guest speakers who were William Gnos, Marin County supervisor; Donald Jensen, county administrator, Marvin Brigham, county road commissioner; Paul Zensius, of the California Highway Patrol, and Philip Schneider, Superintendent of the San Jose School District. Mrs. Sydwell Flynn's fifth grade class presented a musical program.

The Ross Valley Council presents two Honorary Life Membership awards each year in connection with Founders' Day. One was presented to Wagner d'Alessio of Ross who has for many years been an active member of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and has served the P-TA as a committee chairman and officer on both the elementary and high school levels. He has also been an elementary school board member for several years, has been active in church work, civic recreation and Little League and has for the past 11 years been a leader in the Boy Scout program in Marin County.

The second Honorary Life Membership award was presented to Mrs. Russell Klein of Kentfield. Since Mrs. Klein moved to Marin County 11 years ago, she has been a leader in promoting better public education. This award also recognizes her work for and support of the bond issues and currently, the proposed tax increase for the Tamalpais Union High School District to provide a higher level of secondary education in our county.

A VALENTINE luncheon was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of Patricia Leftwich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Leftwich of Larkspur, to Clark A. Raiser of Mill Valley.

120 At Mardi Gras Show For Benefit Of Boys' Choir

Heavy rains, thunder and lightning did not prevent a capacity crowd of 120 from attending Tuesday's Mardi Gras dessert-bridge and children's style show at the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. William G. Phelps, the event was given as a benefit to raise money for the 30 choir boy singers' annual camping trip.

In addition to the usual balloons as Mardi Gras motifs, decor done by Mrs. Pierpont Buck and Mrs. Donald Dunn consisted of large masques on the walls, a balloon-headed clown on the piano and a doll on a stage throne dressed as a Mardi Gras queen.

Mrs. Harrison Leppo provided commentary for the parade of pre-Easter finery for mopets and juniors from Bell's Children's Shop.

As the youngsters modeled the fashions under the direction of Mrs. Harold Jolley and Mrs. Robert Ryan, Mrs. Gordon Harrington played background music on the piano.

Opening and closing the show in Mardi Gras costume as Little Red Riding Hood and wolf were the tiny Oldham twins, Jon and Janice.

Like real dolls were little "Missy" Clark in a story book dress with flower printed top and shepherd's overskirt and tiny Amy Allis in a bouffant white frock with huge turquoise bow.

Not just for mother, the girls proved, are the duster coat, empire line and fly-away back as seen on Jody Weeder, Janice and Christine Klyce and Christine Mineah. Nor are Ivy League styles just for men, Steve Pleasants proved in charcoal slacks and sweater, and Bill Curtis was a miniature fashion plate in navy shorts, hounds tooth jacket and bow tie.

Other girls fashionably dressed or modeling the more practical casual outfits or play togs were Nancy Evans, Colleen Pleasants, Cindy Ryan, Suzanne Ziegler and Gwen Stocking.

MILL VALLEY

Masquers To Present Docu-Drama

Sponsoring of the docu-drama "We Call to Mind" Friday and Saturday evenings in the Mill Valley Park School auditorium is evidence of the Mill Valley Parent-Teachers Assn. Council's interest in entertainment, according to Mrs. Clifford Young, Council president.

She states that entertainment is an important facet of education with which P-TA's should be concerned.

Docu-drama is a new form intended both to entertain and to inform. "We Call to Mind," which will be presented by the Mill Valley Masquers under the direction of Dr. Earle Marsh, will deal with the story and issues of American education.

Arne Anderson is the producer, and the script was written by playwright Philip C. Lewis of New York, who is known for his TV dramatizations of "Cavalcade of America." It will be enacted by four players impersonating 49 people involved in the problems of education.

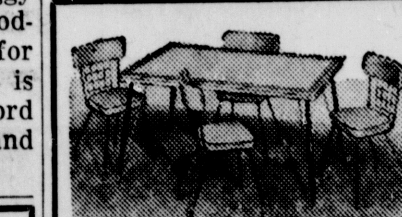

Proceeds from both performances will go to Mill Valley's "Project 17," whose members are assisting with the production.

Refreshments will be served during the evening from booths staffed by "17ers."

Bridge Directors Raise Toll For Marin Commuters

Golden Gate Bridge directors on Friday voted to increase the toll for commuters. It wasn't a very large boost as toll increases go, only one half cent per crossing. But it will mean that Marin commuters will hand out an extra $20,000 to the bridge toll takers in the next fiscal year.

The reason for the increase is "amusing." Seems the directors decided to change the type of commute tickets so that they will be more convenient for the commuters and also to modernize the ticket handling and accounting system with electronic gadgets.

The new type of ticket books will cost about 20 cents more per book for printing and handling than the present card system. Thus, reason the directors, the commuters should pay the extra cost.

Wow! The directors also are considering the installation of automatic toll taking machines. Four units may be installed on a trial basis before very long.

Are the directors going to up the cash toll across the span to pay for this equipment? Of course not—or at least we HOPE not.

At the same meeting, the directors also were given the report on the traffic and revenue for the month of January. General Manager James Adam declared that during January revenue had risen 6.3 per cent above January 1958, the increase totaled $19,806. That amount is almost exactly the extra cost of the new commute books.

The peculiar thing insofar as Marin commuters are concerned—and Marin commuters are about 95 per cent of the total—is that there was no real objection to the commute toll increase. Marin directors didn't stand up for their people.

Marin Director Matt Graham said the increase was "only about the cost of one trip per book," adding that he "thought the commuters would like the new system."

Marin Director Leland Murphy told the board he intends to ask next July for a reduction in the commuter fare. But he voted for the increase. All the directors did.

So unless something happens, come July 1 you commuters must increase your travel budget a little—don't forget.

Australia's Flower In Marin

The national flower of Australia is called by the imaginative Australians "wattle." It is in bloom in abundance in Marin right now. We know it as acacia.

More than 560 species of acacia have been classified. Most of them grow in the tropical regions of the world, India, Africa, South America, etc. Some are thorny and a far cry from our feathery leafed varieties.

Examine the acacia blossom carefully. It is made up of a number of round, delicate puffs. Note its unusual fragrance. Seen as a whole the acacia tree in bloom is a golden cascade of flowers.

Like our coast redwoods, the acacia is full of vitality. Chop it down and more trees spring from its roots. It is as hardy as it is beautiful.

It is an unfortunate fact that acacia pollen produces allergic reactions in many people. In this respect, it ranks close to ragweed. It is also rather sad and soggy-appearing when the blossoms turn brownish and are soaked with rain.

However, few things are perfect in this life and we prefer to think of the acacia as it is now—in its golden glory.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

1 Per Cent Of U.S. Drivers Cause 15 Per Cent Of All Accidents

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

America has 79 million drivers and some 10 million car accidents a year. But here's the eyeopener: One per cent of these drivers, habitual offenders, cause 15 per cent of the accidents.

What is the talkingest town? Maybe New York City. Its eight million residents make 18,700,000 phone calls a day, or more than two for each person.

Hair-raising history: The nobility of ancient Rome had an odd way to cover up baldness. They wore wigs made from the scalps of the daughters of captured chieftains.

You're wrong if you think most of today's children are worthless. A survey showed that 7 out of 10 youngsters in the 8-to-12-year-old bracket help mother dry the dishes, set the table, make beds, and tidy up the house.

Fine arts note: Some 75 per cent of the visitors to the Louvre in Paris go there to see the "Mona Lisa." But when the painting was removed for repairs, the empty space on the wall drew more visitors than the lady normally did herself.

A bird lover sends us this bit of feathered lore: "A parakeet with a blue beak is a guy and a parakeet with a gray or yellow beak is a doll."

IT IS GETTING harder all the time to find a barber who'll give you an old-fashioned straight-edged razor shave — too much bother. Some barbers now even have free shave booths in their shops in which customers, after getting a hair cut, can shave themselves for nothing.

Are you superstitious? Do you carry a good luck piece? The National Geographic Society says the best of all lucky charms is the left hind paw from a rabbit that was killed in a graveyard by a cross-eyed person in the dark of the moon. That's why rabbits wear left hind paws—they're lucky.

HERE'S A helpful hint for ladies who didn't get a Valentine. There is an old belief, girls, that if you drink white wine and roseate, then look at the moon through a silk scarf, you'll see the face of your future husband. Warning: This trick works only for maidens. It's no good for divorcees or hopeful widows.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

We Need Rapid Transit Not Bridge

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

According to the I-J editorial of Feb. 7, "Tiburon Bridge Ban Would Work Hardship on Marin," the editor seems to be all worked up over the idea of San Francisco blocking the construction of a Tiburon Bridge and their additional freeways in San Francisco.

They should be commended rather than condemned for their action. Why should the people of San Francisco have the city laced with a series of freeways for others to get in and out, while all they have is a network of concrete highways to look at, which has taken thousands of dollars in property off the tax rolls.

What we need in Marin County is more of that kind of thinking and not have a group of politicians force upon us a system of freeways which would practically take up most of the choice available land in our small county.

Needed in the not too distant future is a rapid transit tube to San Francisco connecting a transit system in Marin. Then instead of using the silly idea of paralleling 101 through Marin County, construct a freeway up the coast on Route 1, connecting the Golden Gate Bridge. Thus with a transit system plus a west coast freeway, our traffic needs should be well taken care of for many years.

WALTER C. THIERBACH
Tiburon

(NOTE: We made no objection to San Francisco's decision not to have freeways. That is their own choice. We want to be able to make our own choice here too, not have it dictated to us by San Franciscans. We agree with Reader Thierbach that rapid transit is vital.)

What Did He Say Of Mental Health?

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

In my bumbling way I have been trying for two days to make heads or tails out of the statements made by Dr. Lewis A. Aleson in his blast against the proposed Marin Mental Health Clinic reported on Feb. 10. Perhaps you or another reader will be able to straighten me out. I hope so. I need help.

Dr. Aleson states that the program involves subtle means to "erode personal liberty in the United States." Many of us in Marin County would welcome, quite voluntarily, a little psychotherapeutic guidance from time to time. At the present moment we are personally at liberty to seek it from a psychiatrist who is usually beyond our financial means or to trek to San Francisco for it after waiting in line for months for admission to a clinic, providing we are eligible.

If this is personal liberty, I can stand to have mine abridged a little.

Dr. Aleson further states that the program seeks to "abolish morality and the concept of right and wrong." I guess he means that to be mentally healthy is to be immoral. Why is it that in judging criminals, wrongdoers, that is, their acquittal or conviction sometimes rests on their ability to tell right from wrong (i.e., their sanity) and why is a psychiatrist's expert testimony necessary to establish this? This doesn't indicate to me that psychiatry makes no distinction between right and wrong, but maybe it does to Dr. Aleson.

Dr. Aleson also contends that the program would "substitute the State for God." The doctor has been very lucky indeed in his personal life if prayer has answered his every need. For a whole lot of us, it seems efficacious at times to get up off our knees and try to help ourselves, which is why mental health clinics exist.

There was more in the article concerned with Dr. Aleson's worries, but actually I find the prospect of objecting to them rather demeaning. Apparently the Board of Su-

Flexible Position On Berlin Puts West In Good Footing With Soviet

The new word in Western diplomacy is "flexibility." It has become fashionable because just under the surface of the official formulae there is going on in Washington, in London, and in Bonn, a reappraisal of the German problem.

It is a wholly false picture of what is going on to suppose that the issue in this reappraisal is between surrendering and standing firm, between appeasement and principle, between being soft and being strong.

The real issue, to which the reappraisal is addressed, is whether to stand pat on positions that have become untenable or to move to new positions from which the Western Allies can recover the political initiative.

LET US TAKE Berlin for a concrete example, remembering, of course, that it is only the focal point of the whole larger German problem.

At present there are two streams of traffic between West Berlin and West Germany. One, which is much the larger, is civilian traffic. This traffic is regulated by an agreement between the West German government and the East German government and it is by this traffic that the civilian population of West Berlin lives and does its business.

The other traffic is military. It is between the British, French, and American forces in West Germany and their garrisons in West Berlin. This traffic is regulated by Allied agreement with the Soviet Union.

MOSCOW HAS NOW said that if there is no other negotiation about the status of Berlin, it will on May 27 turn over to the East German government its authority over the military traffic. If this is done, it will mean that at the check points on the highways and railroads and canals Allied military traffic will be met by

Animals Are In The News Today; Storm Was No Fun For PG&E Men

Animals in the news: When we were chatting with Sausalito's Justin Herman about his approaching switch of jobs in the housing field, we asked the customary questions about his family, wife's name, children, etc. He was careful to point out that no recapitulation of the Herman family would be complete without reference to the family pooch, a lady of some 5 years whose ancestry Herman defines as "miscellaneous," and whose regular activities he describes as "disrupting to the family and the neighborhood." This colorful and beloved member of the family bears the lofty name of Foul Ball.

ANOTHER MEMBER of the K-9 department of perhaps a bit higher breeding and equally colorful reputation belongs to a woman in Belvedere. A rather hefty gentleman, he is an English bull with a scowling face but lovable personality. He answers to the unlikely nickname of Church. His full name Winston Churchill. He wasn't smoking a cigar when we saw him.

MILL VALLEY Rotarians were being quizzed last week about articles in the most recent issue of the Rotarian. Inability to answer questions called for an immediate fine. John McSweeney flunked completely, using the defense that the post office has fouled up delivery of his copy of the magazine. McSweeney is Mill Valley postmaster.

THAT THUNDER and lightning which put on such a show last Tuesday wasn't so entertaining to PG&E crews in Southern Marin when they discovered that lightning bolts had made a clean sweep at one crack. The big sub-station at Alto plus Sausalito's two substations were knocked out simultaneously. District manager George Henderson estimated that at one time or another up to 10,000 customers may have been without power. Service was restored to almost all within 50 minutes. That's pretty good work, we think.

TIBURON PENINSULA friends of Phil Watkins, former manager of the Southern Marin Recreation Center, will be interested to know he is now staff assistant at the California Historical Society in San Francisco.

Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts have put on a good show during their week's observance. Mill Valley Cub Pack 34, for example (sponsored by the Mill Valley Lions) put a couple of complete displays in our office windows that are eye-openers in their ingenuity and skill. We hope you'll drop by and look them over.

We were dismayed to hear that Mrs. Angelo Sabella, who is a mighty important part of the team at Sabella's restaurant, is not mending as rapidly as hoped for after her recent auto accident. We join her legion of friends in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery.

HOWARD I. MCGILL, chairman of the Tam High School District trustees, is also a member of the Tiburon Fire District Board. What is not too widely known is that he is also an accomplished radio short wave amateur. It is in this department that he works closely with W602C, or H. O. (Doug) Douglas, who is communications center for the fire department in Tiburon and is chief dispatcher. The main difference between the two is that Douglas works from the wheelchair to which he is confined.

WE HAVE a weakness for good music, and what is produced by today's high quality hi-fidelity systems. If you want an expert dissertation on the subject while you're quite comfortable, you can listen to Dick Hassell as he performs his duties as mixologist at Sausalito's Ondine.

WE WERE NOT especially aware of it, but County School Supt. Virgil Hollis told the Sausalito Rotary Club last week that public school curriculum has for many years included a requirement that pupils be taught temperance plus an explanation of the evils of alcohol, tobacco and narcotics.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Humorist Harry Hershfield, visiting Israel, encountered a frail old rabbi and asked, "What is your weekly salary here?" Five dollars, sighed the rabbi. "How can you live on that?" exclaimed Hershfield.

"The lucky thing," explained the rabbi, "is that I'm a very religious man. If I didn't fast three times a week, I'd go hungry."

A very stout, very agitated lady rushed up to a train gate at Grand Central and gasped, "Can I still catch the 4:30 for Boston?"

"That depends on how fast you can run, lady," the guard informed her. "The train left here two minutes ago."

Heard about the poet who quit writing verse to become a crooner on a TV show? Yes, sir, he went from bard to verse.

Old-Timer Of A Principal Balks At Parents' Visiting At School

"Our principal doesn't want parents to visit classes," a mother writes. "He's an old-timer. He says our visits interfere with the children's lessons. Do you agree? Would it be right for me to visit in spite of him? My daughter begs me to come."

Your principal must be an old-timer. There are very few like him left. I disagree, of course. If we parents are careful our visits don't interfere with our children's lessons. Our visits are good for several reasons. They help us understand what our youngsters are doing and help the teachers understand our children. They make possible closer cooperation all around, reducing the likelihood of working at cross purposes.

You've a right to visit your girl's school. It belongs to you just as much as it does your principal. When you get to your girl's room, walk in and stand or sit in the back. Don't talk to the children. Nod to the teacher, but don't expect her to stop and chat with you. She's busy. If you want to talk with her, make an appointment. Look at the bulletin boards, blackboards, wall displays. Look at the maps, charts and models. You'll see that not all schooling comes from books. When the children settle down to their seatwork it may be okay to walk around quietly. Look at the books they're using and the papers. You'll be impressed.

Before you leave nod your thanks to the teacher. If she is free at the moment thank her for the help she is giving the children. Compliment her briefly; she'll appreciate it. If your principal objects to such visits, you might go to your P-TA president. Ask her to talk with him. Get him to check with other principals. He can change.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "When my boys were in elementary school they begged me to visit their classes. Now they're in high school. They beg me to stay away. What's wrong?" —N.T.

(A) Nothing. Nearly all children change that way. Teenagers crave independence. They're afraid of seeming babyish to their friends.

OLD CAT LOVES CORN

Boots, a Siamese cat owned by Mrs. Billie Shannon of Denver, is celebrating his 18th birthday today by eating a special treat of corn on the cob. The old gentleman, now 126 years old by human standards (one human year equals seven cat years), will spend his special day snoozing. Boots has only four teeth left but eats his favorite food—corn—with no trouble.

Pest Control Board Favors 3 Measures

The full 10-member board of the Marin Mosquito Abatement District met on record Friday night as favoring three state Assembly bills submitted to the current Legislature, reported Paul Jones, district manager.

One bill would require a city to obtain permission from the mosquito abatement district's trustees before withdrawing from the district. The Marin district now includes all nine cities in the county and stretches west to Lagunitas to cover an area of 180 square miles.

The second bill would allow a mosquito abatement district to annex non-contiguous territory.

A third bill would permit warrants to be signed by one trustee and the district's chief administrative officer instead of by two of the three trustees elected president, vice president and secretary.

In addition, the Marin district trustees went on record as disapproving state subventions to districts with tax rates lower than the 40-cent limit per $100 assessed valuation. Its tax rate is four cents and it receives no state subventions.

The trustees also authorized its eight employees to be covered by social security when county employees come under its provisions around Nov. 1.

Inmate Struck Leaving Cell

A 24-year-old San Quentin inmate was beaten on the head by a club-wielding fellow prisoner yesterday when he emerged from his cell at 8:20 a.m. His assailant is unknown.

The victim, Orlando M. Wright, was about to go to the dining hall for breakfast when the attack occurred. He suffered a deep scalp cut.

Wright, whose wound was sewn up at the prison hospital, told prison officials he did not recognize his attacker. He said he thought he was hit with a piece of pipe. An 18-inch length of pipe was discovered later in the inmate dining hall.

The injured prisoner remained in the hospital last night for observation. He was expected to be released today.

Wright, convicted of auto theft in Los Angeles County, was received at San Quentin last June 24. Prison officials said Wright's inmate acquaintances regard him as a trouble maker.

Mrs. W. L. Costa of San Anselmo, chairman of volunteer services for the Friends of Arequipa, explained the role of volunteers.

Americans Waste Huge Sums Yearly On Food Quackery

By LOUIS CASSELS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans are wasting 500 million dollars a year on vitamin pills, mineral products and other so-called "food supplements" which they don't need and which they wrongly regard as short-cuts to health.
This estimate comes from the American Medical Assn. It is termed "conservative" by a spokesman for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.
The two organizations have joined with the National Better Business Bureau in a concerted campaign to warn the public against what the AMA calls "a racket that is spreading with alarming speed."
Their efforts are strongly endorsed by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, who says that unscrupulous promotion of food fads "has become the most widespread and expensive form of medical quackery in the country today."

It should be emphasized that special vitamin and mineral products MAY serve a useful purpose if, for some special reason, your diet requires this kind of supplement. Physicians may recommend them, for example, for some children, for pregnant women, nursing mothers, alcoholics and others with unusual dietary problems.

But leading nutrition authorities say that the vast majority of Americans can get all of the vitamins and minerals they need from an ordinary balanced diet, and do not have to gulp pills, capsules, powders, compounds or tonics.
The AMA estimates about 10 million persons in the nation today are regularly dosing themselves with costly "food supplements" which they don't need. It is these people — not the relatively few for whom vitamins and minerals are medically indicated — who are wasting their money.
The stuff they buy (with a few exceptions) is not harmful in itself. It usually contains the specific vitamin and mineral concentrates advertised on the label, plus assorted fillers such as alfalfa, seaweed and ground eggshells.

The danger — say the government and the AMA — lies in the fact that many of these products are being peddled to the public by high-pressure salesmen who falsely represent them as cure-alls for virtually every known ailment from dandruff to cancer.

"The results can be tragic," Flemming says.
"People who have serious medical problems are misled by these false claims to rely on products which do not actually help them, and thus fail to get proper medical attention until it is too late."

Fad food racketeers have two primary methods of making their pitch.
One is the so-called "health lecture" at which a glib pseudo-scientist dispenses a persuasive blend of superstition, sex and salesmanship to convince his audience that all human illness can be traced to improper diet and remedied by his particular "wonder food."

The other is door-to-door selling, carried on by an army of perhaps 50,000 men and women. Some of them are legitimate salesmen who simply offer vitamin products as part of their line without making any extravagant claims.

But many are doorstep-dogmatists who do not hesitate to prescribe their high-priced nostrums as a cure for any ache, pain or disease symptom that the prospective customer may mention.

Both types rely heavily on myths about food that have been repeated so often millions of Americans believe them.

One myth is that most disease is caused by faulty nutrition. The fact is that relatively few diseases — pellagra, scurvy and rickets are the principal ones — are actually associated with dietary deficiencies. And these diseases are so rare in the United States that medical schools have a hard time finding cases for clinical study.

A second myth is that the ordinary foods you buy in the grocery store are likely to be woefully short in "essential nutrients."

This is true of a few food products, but not of any diet that is anywhere nearly balanced. The fact is that America's food supply is so high in nutritional value, a person would almost have to go out of his way to avoid being well-nourished.

Agriculture Department tests have repeatedly debunked the notion that chemical fertilizers "poison" the land and the crops grown on it.

Nor is it true that any food that has been processed is worse off for it as far as nutrition is concerned. In fact there are some cases — bread and milk are examples — where the addition of valuable elements more than makes up for those lost in the processing.

The AMA believes the food fad racket would dwindle fast if every consumer would bear these facts in mind:

"The best and most economical source of all the nutritious foods your body needs is your own garden, grocery and meat counter.

"If you make sure your daily diet consists of meat, fish, fowl and eggs; dairy products, bread and cereals; and fruits and vegetables, your body will be at its peak strength when and if illness does strike."
